S.G.P Theory-Riku Dola

This Document is based on a Theory assuming what happens instead of Tet, Riku was able to possess suniaster(Star-Grail) and becomes the absolute ruler of the Disboard

Context:

In the Story (The Canon part/scenario), Riku spends a year discreetly planning and manipulating the movements of the other races' armies. His goal was to force the armies into a situation where they all had to unleash their ultimate attacks on each other, which would then be directed by the Ex-Machina towards the planet's physical core, therefore damaging the core of the Spirit Circuit network and forcing the Suniaster to reveal itself. However, the fact that enough of the devices for redirecting the blast had not [and due to the increased presence of the races, could not be] been placed, thus they could not redirect the combined attacks at the planet), so instead of attempting to control the combined wave of ultimate attacks, the Ex-Machina reproduced a version of the combination attack in the form of a massive gun called the Stalemartyr, which they entrusted to Riku.

As the Great War reached it's Conclusion,As Riku try to reach Suniaster(Star-Grail) said "This can't possibly be a draw" then proceeds to lose his hand when trying to take the Suniaster.All of the races and their Old Gods were at a stalemate at that point since they pretty much used all of their powers and only Riku had power than all of them, Although the Suniaster appeared before him.

Riku isnt able to take the suniaster because his body is an absolute mess due to black ash and tough conditions during the great war ,that took toll on his body and cant handle its power at that specific time, As Riku found himself unable to attain the Suniaster, he offered a fervent prayer to Tet who is a figment of his imagination materialized through the action created the posibility of Tet existing in that world, which became reality once that posibility of god used through the Star-Grail.

The only God that had not exhaust his powers at all was Tet, so He acquire and claim the Suniaster and possess it instead of Riku.

So, This Theory presents a Non-canon scenario assuming Riku Dola claims the Suniaster and possess it(Making him the One True God) of the Disboard instead of Tet.

STAR-GRAIL:

The Star Grail (星杯, Hoshi-hai), also known as the Sunya Star (スーニアスター, Sūniasutā), is a conceptual device with the concept of absolute supremacy. A device that bestows its owner the sole Throne of the One and Only God and absolute power over all other races.

At the climax of the Great War, the Suniaster was finally able to manifested itself through the convergence of power from the eruption of the Source of Spirit Corridor, which had been detonated by the Stalemartyr.

Explaining more on Star-Grail:
It is the very manifestation of the power of the currents within the Source of Spirit Corridor, which are, unequivocally, the power of Spirits.The Spirits are the life force and/or power themselves and are the driving force of the world. Hence, the Source of Spirit Corridor is said to be the source of all things and the flow of all creation.

The planet's crust obliterated, its core gutted, the source of the spirit corridors detonated. The unfathomable power that had been unleashed moments before seemed like the prick of a pin by comparison. The power that forged the world—sufficient to blow it away without a trace—was unleashed. As he was being consumed, Riku saw it.

".....Is.....that it...?"

The Suniaster.

The Suniaster is more or less the core of the world, All Exceed are born from the Spirit Circuits which in turn come from the Suniaster. The war was faught in order to try and obtain the Suniaster and become the One True God.

As Star-Grail (Suniaster) is the source and origin of everything, it is where all existing powers and abilities come from. All the powers that exist in the universe are said to be only fragments that have fallen from it.

Feat & Intelligence Scaling breakdown For Riku in this Theory:

Possessing the Suniaster grants Riku the highest affinity to magic in existence, granting its user the title of "The One True God" that allows him to create the Ten Covenants. The absolute and immutable rules that governs all of Disboard,These rules are above other laws including Ruler's Edict of Dragonia which governing all things in nature and Riku also gains direct conceptual integration with absolute omniscient & omnipotence.

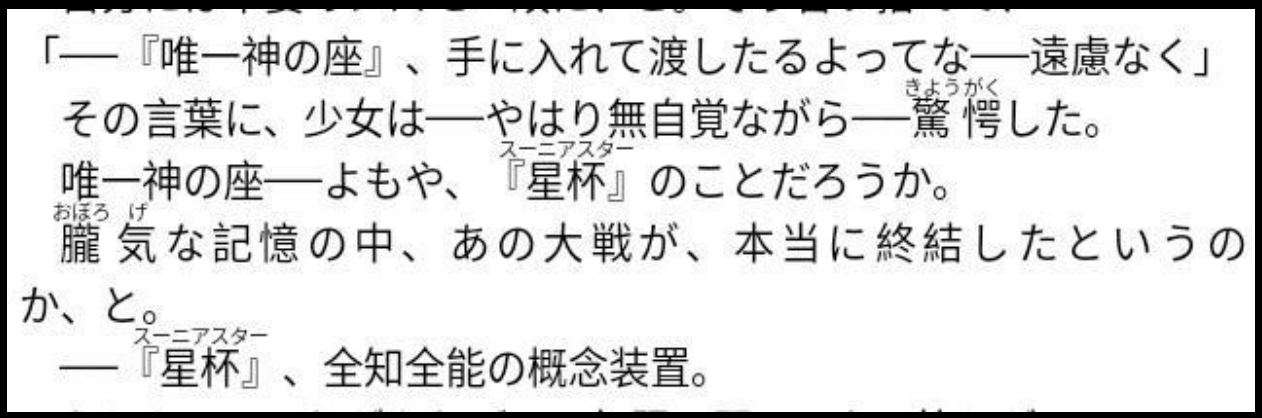
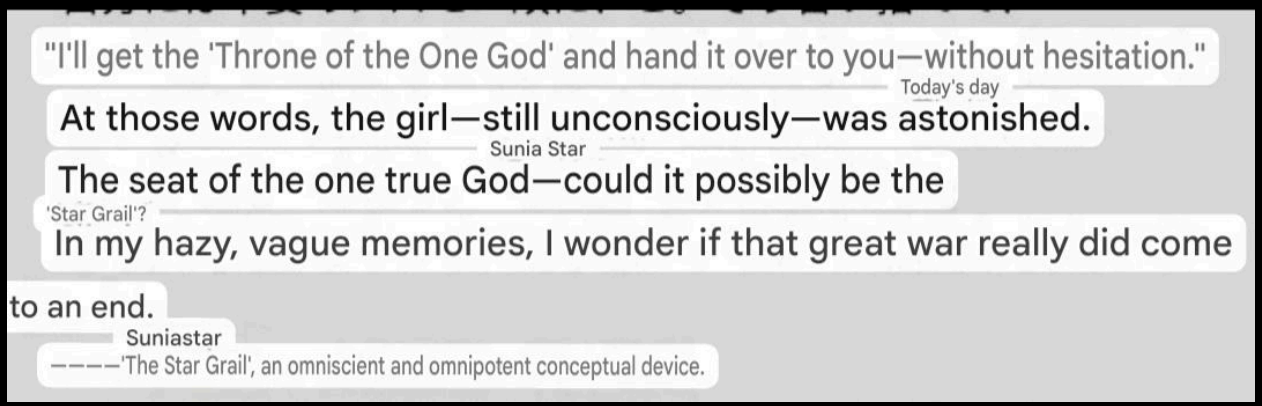
Omniscience grants him All-Knowing, Full-Viewing, And Knows Everything, no matter how impossible to know or see, no matter how illogical or Logical it is, he will know it, even if it is.
Here are some Raw Light Novel scans explicitly stating Star-Grail(Suniaster) is an omniscient and omnipotent conceptual device:





It is the power that predates all things and makes up the world—substances, phenomena, and concept.

Imitating the universe's beginning, through the divine feat replicating heaven and earth's creation

s h a p e

The power became waves, the waves turned into substance, concept was defined and then revealed.

Imitating the universe's beginning, through the divine feat replicating heaven and earth's creation——a land was born in the sky.

As for Old Deus, they exist in higher dimensions.They exist in more than 13 dimensions in their true form,also the Scale about variable complexity isn't even as simple as you think, it is bigger and better and real life physics concepts of dimensions is used upon this as mentions in the scan:

"Therefore, while he was on a higher dimension... we only destroyed the Quintessence that physically existed —— However."

By doing that the manifestation of Artosh's concept would temporarily stop —— The Ex-Machina presumed that deactivation was possible, however:

"Holou, you said you're 'polygenetic,' right? Like, how many?"

"I-it dependeth on the definition... But we might suppose that Holou's nuclear coordinates lie on 13 + iR variable dimensions—"

"Exactly! Like, over eleven dimensions! Literally an idol from another dimension!"

Sora brazenly plowed right through this report, which flew in the face of his old world's understanding of physics! Then, even more courageously, he bellowed out his lofty ideals!!

So Even if all 10 Old Deus poured their powers and put it together, their power would still won't be enough to even be anything near the power of Star-Grail, it's impossible to even match it in anything

Even if the ten Old Deus poured their powers and put it together, what was poured down by the ten of them would be only ten's worth of power.

But the [Star Grail] is---- it's about creating a power able to rule the power of the ten poured together, it's that kind of talk.

Fundamentally, their power is not enough. It's impossible.

They can also see and perceive countless branches of future and countless parallel worlds in the verse, with Star-Grail Riku have transcendence over Old Deus in everything including cognition amd intelligence aswell

(Scan-1)

Now

For Riku,he will not be bounded by any tautology,logic,cause and effects & metaphysics due to Suniaster
(Also for info,metaphysics encompasses a wide range of general and abstract topics and concept of time and space) Star Grail also Grants its wilder the Higher-Dimensional Existence,Precognition and Cosmic Awareness

You can see in the scans, that with Star-Grail, He will gain transcendence over causality & laws and metaphysics. As Suniaster exists as conceptuals in nature, It Itself encompasses and includes all things and all creation that can be thought. This involves creating the constructs and rules that apply to all beings in the verse,even gods. So,In this Theory Riku with the Suniaster [Star grail] becomes omniscient and omnipotent, the existing power of the universe was nothing more than a mere fragment that spilled out and fell from the vessel, with Star-Grail Power, the time and even metaphysics and cause and effect are meaningless to him and he he can create both past and future,both creation and destruction, even observation and definition,as he pleases.
(Scan-2)

For an Old Deus——for that girl, even the way to measure the time itself seemed to differ from theirs.

Those eyes overlooking countless branches of futures, and even the possible worlds, could already see the outcome of this game——in that case, surely it must be seeing what lied ahead of that outcome, as if it were countless predetermined facts.

——[Star Grail].

It was a device with the concept of absolute supremacy——a vessel where the "omnipotent power" had settled.

It could even be said the existing power of this universe was nothing but a mere fragment that spilled out and fell from the vessel.

For the person freely controlling it, originally, time and even the metaphysical cause and effect——was already meaningless.

Both creation and destruction, past and future, even observation and definition, it was all as he pleases.

"To see the future where the Old Deus will make a roaring face" ——creating such a future would also be pretty easy, but——

"Is it fun to cheat like that? Looking at the future, was there anything good there?"

——Even if it wasn't as much as Tet, who possessed the [Star Grail].
