Jinhyeok Kangs strategy of 29th floor (the gate strategy) :

At first when jinhyeok came to 29th floor(world of sea, where if u fall in the water, you will lose all your powers), after he made the other guilds get stuck in fighting against gigant dalos (a monster of there),while he travels towards the shore, he saw like forty+ ships come towards him (ships of pirates),he reslizes cobs(their cap) is waiting in the island, as he Doesn't spot him in the front ship while cobs is always the initiative type pirate who always comes from front, from that clue he points out cobs is saving up resources while waiting in island,dragging time, he realizes the middle floor manager is behind this and directly instructed him and he must've gotten awared by hasting, and the mid floor manager must be going to negotiate with nirasha(cap of gandhara guild) who is strong but has hatred towards jinhyeok, and from the red lighting he realizes the meaning of all this is just dragging time while their real aim is to hold on till apocalypse kraken gets summoned and nyarlathotep is behind this, so he also realizes cobs and nirasha will get more resources supply too. The strategy starts from here, taking down those ships incoming.

so first step : taking down the ships : jinhyeok instructs taemin & alice to be incharge of antiaircraft defense while that jinhyeok yeonhwa and yoosung will go towards the ship using glacial modeled bridge and in separate ships ,where they would provoke and enrage the mains(in the respective ships) to engage in direct combat and they wouls shift fighting balance towards masr and main goal will be to cut the mast while maintaining distance from other pirates so their reaction time won't be enough to stop(mast is a pole that rises vertically from a ship and supports the sails).after he 3 of them does the same,The mast was smashed at an angle that had been precisely calculated, causing the ship to draw a large semicircle to the right,and the close ships will come across each other and collide,like this all enemy ship will be imbalanced and get in smaller space,with less energy spend and in less time,then jinhyeok will signal and at that time taemins drone will spray the chemical jinhyeok prepared beforehand to spread it over the entire water area around them ,and that will lure out giant sea snakes and sea dragons to the place,but jinhyeoks ship is also there so they might also get in trouble,so jinhyeok had already summoned a dragon tribe(to scare of any snake if they try to attack his ship) along his side while also activating mentra taming(an ability that's used to tame monsters while engaging with them),and by using soft hooded crane jinhyeok manipulated the weather & waves ,making storm in the small space to make the ships get stuck and have no chance to escape and confine the snakes & monsters within those ships area as well,by this very small amount of survivor will return to cobs and he'll be aware that jinhyeok can control sea monsters so fighting in the sea will not be an option and he seals the next battle place with this as well (which i'll say later),after this jinhyeoks ship returns to shore of the island and he would instruct yeonhwa and taemin to stay at the ship to guard it(that ship is remodeled with various safety and backup defense devices so it can hold on some time if cobs send monsters towards it)

jinhyeok chooses crystal cave as road route(that place would allow to get not caught in pirates surveilance and route that can lead to the supply route of them ,because this cave is extremely dangerous ,on the other side the supply would be safe since no would likely come through that and destroy it and come to other side where supplies r),here now jinhyeoks team would have to dig up till the end to pave the road and ,here where the blue crystals resides which r high efficient and also very dangerous because the cave eater monster in the place, when an individual uses abilities those crystal detects the element power in it and the monster also directly gets adjusted to that ability ,becaz of that they can resist the attacks even if they have high destructive capacity ,jinhyeok used multi casting to use different abilities with different elements basis so that the crystals can't keep on adjusting to all of them ,and for the abiities they won't be resistant ,they'll get harmed by it(multi casting normally isn't possible unless individual has high psi & player possessing & high understanding of every type of the ability and being able to perfectly alligning combinations that can success in working in pattern),while the crystals will try to adjust jinhyeok will use goguma who will use non attribute breath on the crystals to destroy it while it's occupied and got no defender,and after that jinhyeok uses a few tactics to pave the path faster while he also retrieved some crystals(for later use u'll see), and now they reached to other side leading to the pirates,and caught them offguard and destroyed their supplies and the guards there while some escaped too ofc,so nirasha and cobs got informed and realized why their surveilance couldn't catch their location ,but now they start preparing for the battle ,as alice comes towards them,nirasha who is currently baked by cheonsei gets to activate avater of rakshasa and use his powers,and with cobs whose gun attack deflect and penetrate and ignore defensive and attack power will be able to corner her while jinhyeok is preparing for battlefield control(since after jinhyeok sealed the possibility of fighting in the sea,their next fighting place should be near sea,he predicted since manager intervened they'll get the ability to influence close sea water and use them against him by what ,if u get in touch with yu will lose all your powers,and nirasha will also get trident for backup what we'll see later),jinhyeok recreated the battlefield using ancient barriers ,for two things ,not being able to use the sea power while they r confined in this dimension and also readjusting the barrier so that alice can summon a bit of power of her prime state,which can completely counter both cobs guns and nirashas avater power,and when nirasha is in trouble ,cobs is occupied with jinhyeok while his guns ability not working(due to universal sharing jinhyeok reproduced the small fraction of alices power there),so cobs will try to run away but due to the abilities of barrier jinhyeok made the scenario of grudgeful spirits will succumb cobs who didn't save his underling while the fight(the reason for this i'll say at last),so nirasha who is cornered and captured by alice,jinhyeok will heal nirasha and poison her(this cycle of torture will go on for a while),jinhyeok points out a few things from what rakshasa realises jinhyeok is targetting him not nirasha,jinhyeok will use nirasha to negotiate(they can't give up on a apostle easily whom they nurtured and supported this far),jinhyeok will force em to give away vimana fragments nirasha posses(this will be very effective in the last showdown against kraken),rakshasa is forced to give it away and jinhyeoks deal is he will let go nirasha from"this place" safely,so after transaction rakshasa will teleport back to gandharas base to prevent probability of getting stabbed in back,after returning angered nirasha will take trident(she couldn't use it there since due to close distance jinhyeok can get aware of the attack and possibly divert it),and at the time she uses accelaration magic to reinforce it ,the blood explosion(used in her while previous torture) will activate due to sensing malicious intent and "about to attack",so nirasha dies along with the base and a few more comrades of her,well jinhyeok did "send her back" safely from"this place".jinhyeok already predicted when trident will be use and the best way to get it while dealing maximum group damae and getting vimana fragments,as for cobs,it was in copy conditions to make him betray and use his comrade as sheltering and later making him despair using that(that's why he remodeled the barrier),now he commands alice to retrieve the trident while yoosung and others return with thousand years old conch which he will need for part 2 of this strategy(kraken part)

part 2 : conch is the medium that can lead you to path to atlantis under sea,but the conch didn't seem to acknowledge jinhyeok even when theres trident in his hand, so breaks the conch so that curse of sea activates and mermaids of atlantis directly come to punish but they'll not attack sincce jinhyeok knows prophecies of medray(who saved the atlantis before) and wields trident,after jinhyeok reasons out with the mermaid so that they let him meet their leader ,while jinhyeok will be going to atlantis alone others will go to help out the ship which are still stuck with fight of gigant dalos ,teressa and the saints guild is also there ,and here as jinhyeok goes with them he leaves impression of knowing their language,being able to control sea monsters,and mermaids can't attack him and snatch trident becaz he showed hints he can use some abilities to make their breathing poisoned by remixing the water elements of the sea, with the past points of wielding trident with all of that he successfully leaves impression on the mermaids he's possibly a descandant of hero while going to atlantis.so when jinhyeok reached the place,he convinces their leader of being the hero (he also showed he had medrays some possession which were fake ,remodeled by glacial modeling,cobs ability he copied that time & piece from the broke conch),then he convinces the leader to help him in this situation when kraken will come, prevent destruction of the entire 29th floor.At the same time, at the scene where other guilds ships r fighting gigant dalos,the zion guild(where teressa is,the holy empires saints and warriors guild) were using teressa as shield as she was in front fight,so at the 29th red lightning the kraken finally manifests from the sea,and at that place where the guilds ship were(that was done purposely ofc). So now leader of holy cross will use teressa as scapegoat while everyone gets in safeposition,and due to teressas personality she will still fight to save peoples lives,and with the powers of joans arc(hero) and white flame she can hold on a bit while and while that ask for help from eden,but they don't answer at all,so she'll end up using relics to use full power of joans arc to hold on and keep on trying to reach the call to eden,so after that jinhyeok appears and the crystals they had gathered in the cave will come in use now for goguma who consumed it to strngthen dragon breath, and at jinhyeoks signal yoosung and alice will also attack creating another gap by using special bombs which r also flamable in water due to adding white phosphorus. Now that jinhyeok took teressa to safety but still due to using joans arc previously it drained teressas life force so much that she was aout to die and that time eden responds to strike a deal with jinhyeok by controlling the scenario where he needs teressa and she's in grave danger and there's kraken problem too(jinhyeok also predicted that eden would respond this way,when he first came in this island and met the holy cross,he heard teressa was getting in contact with eden),so the deal would be on systems scale where jinhyeok would have to give up on one of his most precious achievement in return of teressas life(jinhyeok knew they r aiming for clues of necronomicon since they r very important and giving away the clue to uriels side means he's betraying his negotiations with gabriel,what uriel had aimed for)but here jinhyeok gives away his "privilege of first conquerer" in scale,something uriel can't use,is jinhyeoks precious achievement and that passive power can be retained again by making impossible achievement so jinhyeok gave that away.(jinhyeok had to forcefully let this happen from start becaz of joans arcs copy conditions Was to make teressa realising the corruption of holy cross and eden & also this way he could annoy the kraken a bit even though the damage is insignificant, the bought time was worth)

Casey & judey(the twins at the chap 160s) returned after wiping out rest of gandhara guild,(becaz they can backstab from hatred later so It's safe to clear things out),jinhyeok uses gemini barrier along with starlight, the reason is the effect on this barrier only works on twins with shared abilities synced, it boasts extreme efficiency,so they will go on attack first on the legs of kraken, since they r already masochistic, ignorant towards pains(and by securing their lives by this barriers proficiency as long as they r synced and not instant death, so unlike other players they Won't hesitate to initiately attack even after killed or highly injured),this is mainly for building krakens agitation since this is only making small scratches(but kraken is a divine being and looks at other species with ignorance,this will anger his ego)while they attack jinhyeoks ship will launch more bombs and explosive and offensive magic they had gathered to strengthening the previous point of anger,and shifting focus towards the casey & judey and explosives. meanwhile jinhyeok prepares for real fight, first by security mobility outside ship(uk the sea penalty r8), activating tripple magic and using different spells to recreate wings on the players legs, to move in air while fight,(on other hand he was using ice spear made of glacial modeling to even able to minimise krakens movements a little and helping casey judey to respond and attack). Now that they can fight outside the ship, wolyoung and yoosung joined the frontal attack alongside those two, now that the annoyance was building kraken will be activating phase 2 now, predicting that, jinhyeok had used the potion he had made drop in the ocean(it was made with the conchs piece,mermaid scale & deep sea water alongside mandala magic),that potions effect is sanctuary field, in phase 2 kraken will summon different monster and attacks from water so this will help to see where the attacks r gonna come from, it will point the area 1 second before the attack delivers to ship,so the monsters attacks are taken care with this and the water bubble which comes from water and confines the entire ship,to divert that Jinhyeok threw breakwater to cover and misdirect bubbles using machine lord ability and It's manifestations,and all the thunder attacks coming from above jinhyeok would predict & mark them with ice magic on those cloud points before they fall,& while that alice will use rapiers & goguma will use breath to create gap between jelloyfishes & kraken then jinhyeok commanded rest of ships(other guilds) to take down the jelly fishes close to kraken(they can store the thunders and later use them to attack more fiercely).kraken was safe even after that due to It's instant recovery and high durability but jinhyeok successfully pushed It's anger a lot. Kraken finally activates rage of sea to make whirlpools which suck in everything like blackhole, and for every ship it sinks krakens attack power will increase by 5% every time, rotain the head of holy cross starts blaming teressa for not taking help of eden and not being able to take down kraken, but he was Ridiculed provoked and criticised by jinhyeok who is backed up by high public image and mass support so rotain can't do anything to him rn(jinhyeoks ship could escape to most distance from whirlpool beforehand due to jinhyeok properly navigating the ship before that activation but now other ships are starting to sink).

Soon 1/3 guilds ships were drowned, so all other players are forced to ally with jinhyeok since they Won't be able to hold on much longer, after that fleet layout was reorganised jinhyeok,but rotain(leader of holy cross) had a bit of suspicion becaz they had a safe position even though jinhyeok and rotain was in argument moments ago, the only commsnd they had was to stay in middle corner of layout and deal with reefs which will soon appear, rotain suspected that was a bait, he made fred (a player who can read ocean current) to see what's gonna happen in flow, he predicts that their position will close upto closest position to kraken within 15 minutes analyzing from their position, with this rotains suspicion is confirmed but he decides to play along until waves change, at jinhyeoks command, the ships firepower focuses on whirlpools not kraken,projecting on different whirlpools at different time,Aiming at the gaps,intervals of whirlpools to push the position a bit toward krakens body shifted towards a nearby whirlpool of it and in that moment successfully attacking with hellfire,venom,yumekaze,demon qi at It's mouth(due to physical response of kraken while his one side shifted a bit to whirlpool,he opened his mouth a bit, that's where attack was aimed). Attack was successful but still all this was far from enough to get even close in beating, the reefs in the sea started appearing, at that time the front ship and middle ships positions Exchanged due to flow, the holy cross became closest to kraken as predicted but Rotain activates abels skull a relics power that can exchange position incase of betrayal, so jinhyeoks ships positions and holy crosses position reversed, rotain wanted to use jinhyeoks ship as bait and use his Cains stone knife to deal fatal blow on kraken at gap he will get(while dealing with jinhyeok and gaining more publicity in moments of adversity with this,and gaining a chance to get distanced from kraken),Jinhyeok had predicted all this(he had knew rotain possessed the skull and knife from teressa when he heard they came in contact with eden he suspected and had asked teressa,tnx to that info jinhyeok could set this trap),so now that jinhyeok whose ship became closest to kraken, jinhyeok was combining fragments of vimana on trident while using barriers to reinforce it and perfectly combine it(why vimana? Becaz jinhyeok doesn't posses trident and can't exert It's full power which is bad for fight and suspicion from mermaid alliance too,vimana fragments can not only strengthen the trident but also due to blessing of star and mandala he can control it and higher the proficiency as well),with this completed the mermaid alliance responds to his call,When all the forces came out of water and exerted their powers, the flow changed again and jinhyeok and rotains ships positions exchanged again, with this rotain is forced to use the knife & relics on kraken to stay alive but even if it inflicts damage they're gonna die anyway, (what jinhyeok got is 2 successful attack, the mouths one and knife one), with allied with mermaid and them getting under command of trident user, the atlantis warriors proficiency increases and they could push kraken further, driving out the other monsters as well (after all mermaids r the strongest force of this floor), kraken WHO's angered feels a power deep under the sea, it was faint but he points it out and realizes It's mana flow similar to mermaid so It's atlantis, if mermaids lose their city and loved ones they'll be discouraged to fight anymore and they will be in despair abd angered towards hero(jinhyeok) who Couldn't protect them like prophecy said,so krakens target shifted and it went into the ocean,but when kraken reached the place he Didn't see any mermaid, The place was not atlantis rather a fake recreated by barriers and made fake mana flow to drive him here, at that time kraken also finds out There's barrier that connects & discerns dimensions too,that place is at the end of the floor,Jinhyeok and his minions came there and launched their attacks on kraken, jinhyeoks trident made the most impact but It's still not enough to make kraken fall but due to intensity of the power clashes, there will be created a small crack on the Barrier that restrained the floor,Kraken will feel the change and try to go up, but fatigued kraken faces casey & judey again alongside yoosung(from previous attacks before mermaid came+attacks of trident,kraken is fatigued, cain knife is a knife of deity class, and so is remade trident),they will corner the kraken more by cutting off It's legs but even if it regenerates quickly, the void sucking from the barrier space crack and kraken being closest to that he'll get succumbed in it,jinhyeoks comrades were using attributes of mermaid so they were stable inside the sea, able to balance and fight normally, now that kraken is about to get succumbed in the dimensional split, the previous gate now entirely summons in that place,

And on other side of the gate, there's the undead and homunculus sent by jinhyeok who shifted the position to demon realm, guntafers territorry(previously in 27th floor he had gathered a few things like tamahal keyworm,blue ectoplasm,qi finder &17 other ekements combined to weaken the seal and of demon realm to be able to teleport there through gate and not being discovered about them since demons r highly sensitive to non territorial beings, and undead r already considered to be parts of demonic so It's perfectly fabricated and jinhyeok had already told belial in 27th floor to keep the gate of that side, in his territory safely, he'll contact through it later,so after the undead and homunculus goes there the shift the other sides gates position to guntafers area). With this he gets rid of kraken, not facing it to full extent and also while dealing damages to guntafer who might be scheming something towards him after he failed in 27th floor, to keep him occupied a little and deal damage in his territory, jinhyeok made krakens summoning position in the territory. So that the kraken can bring damage to guntafers territory and guntafer gets occupied with it and he Doesn't get a chance to counter the weakened jinhyeok who will be fatigued after krakens fight, to remove possibility of guntafers possible scheming and to deal damage in the territory,it also helps belial who was getting continuous chased by guntafers soldiers and belial(an ally on jinhyeoks side) can take a moment to reorganise again.
