Kang Jinhyeoks pandemonium war planning :

So after previous incident where guntafers ambush plan at 30th floor heavenly demon theme was backfired and led to more damage in his territory and later jinhyuk let them retreat, jinhyuk returns to belials (another demon king candidate like guntafer, but he's on jinhyuks side) territory,he Assesses his plan next events since belials soldiers are already reduced to nothing, guntafer got support of other candidates, according to guntafers support he reasons out he will try to get 31st floor barbarian on his side now that heavenly demons r not, he can't do it alone but due to another candidates alliance he might get the Recognition stone which wpuld help in persuading them, without letting them having time to make any proper plan jinhyuk strikes right away.
Attack on Blaine fortress :jinhyeok had prepared 500 jackal soldiers of egyptian mythology (low tiers) and he used them to ambush on blaine fortresses forest corner when less guard were there (though It's likely for opponents to know he'll strike at weakpoint), when he ambushed perfectly after coming out of forest it was still not enough since there were mid/high ranks demons and more supplies are about to come as they too expected this, though jinhyuks murim side allies (the two dark emperors),were coming through drainage ditch, to not get detected this previous ambush was misdirection, and in the drainage the spiders who fight and kill others Won't fight them(jinhyuk gave a method to make it fall unconscious), which leds them not suspecting anything coming from drainage(no fighting = no mana leakage,no detection & drainage has wastages inside it which can support in hiding their presence since they also emit demonic powers due to demonic arts), so after the two murim allies comes and they took on gate guards(while coming from drainage path they were preping their abilities but it Couldn't get detected due to prev shielding) while that jinhyuk infiltrates the inside with those few jackals and uses glacial modeling to block the paths of reinforcements coming(simply buying time),he later uses 8 swamp(wide area poison magic)with blessing of stars & mandala (overally making it poisonous for demons of mid/low ranks), by this he catches the small fries off guard, but the captain Doesn't get in effect, while more reinforcement come jinhyeok holds the captain off and forces him to blow up everything in that place while that jinhyuk escapes with hooded crane(a dragon who governs weather and air,he was hiding in cloud while also spreading the 8 swamp), here making them call more reinforcement here was the trap which they also realizes becaz the heavenly demons who r with jinhyuk Were not seen, with yoosung they went to strike at meeting holding place (that's also a faking), and goguma and pried(Phoenix) were going in the resource storing place taking most of stuff(taking most of stuff is for not letting guntafer realize his aim, jinhyuk knew guntafer might have expected this and he switched most of important pieces there in that short time, but that wasn't what jinhyuk needed either he only needed a few small things which he'll fuse and recreate new things later, so jinhyuks aim succeeded). so after this while his troupes retreat they realise guntafer also send vampires of ataraxia (the current ataraxia head too) to help players clearing most of theme in 30th floor so that most of heavenly demons belonging to floor 30 return and jinhyuk loses his troupes, although a few were still there since they were intruders in that floor, but this lessened his troupes in upcoming war, but jinhyuk will proceed with his plan as it Didn't bother him much, he got what he needed, he heads towards 31st floor while expecting guntafer to strike there to using those vampires and backing them with necessary resource for allying barbarians & for the main war.

through the map of 31st floor jinhyuk found out a risky shortcut to get to barbarians place (they live in separately ,distributed sect all over the forest and mountains) jinhyuk went there and was able to persuade them (due to dark emperor who is muscular,chivalrous ,a personality that shares similarity with barbarians which is why affinity was build) ,with those fews help he reached the core city where the king is, and passed the trial of hieroglyph and gate test,(while hieroglyph test ,after he interpreted the puzzle and solved it he used an ancient beast called undine and gave her a stone he stole from gunts base previously, he modified it so it can attract all the lightning and thunder to one point, which was the solution he gave, as for choosing undine,it was becaz she's least resistant to lightning due to being elemental queen of water, making her feel more pain and agony will play it's role later), as welcome ,jinhyuk presented gifts(a juice made of different ingredients that enhances their muscles,body figure while maintaining youth,barbarians r stupid creatures who r mostly attracted to brute force type things), but jinhyuk wouldn't just give it away right away , he says abut to get this item he lost his teammates showing clips of undine burning(a slight edited clip),and he'll talk about that he was ambushed after getting this and tey also captured his teammates(the vamps), barbarians who put pride honor strength above all will certainly have a bad impression on the vamps, while feeling sympathy for jinhyeok who lost his teamates(bro fake cried and showed anguished,they r dumb anyway), while this was ongoing the vamps come to the palace breaking the door quickly(since they saw a huge flash when jinhyuk passed gate test ,which was why they realised kang reached first and they had to fasten the process which is going how kang wants here), jinhyuk pointed to the vamps they were the ambushers but they couldn't ambush becaz they possesed the recognition stone they got from gunt, but jinhyuk points that as fae(jinhyuk lied by saying the stones statue in middles doesn't totally represent a barbarian king as it lost it's shine over time and it was supposed to be protected by holy magic since they r chivalrous bullcrap,the structure of the pointed weapons in the stone didn't have significance to current style of barbarians etc and jinhyuk pointed a stone he had fabricated by clearing all this faults he pointed, so barbarians didn't side with vamps), barbarians who r turned to jinhyuk, vsamps take yoosung as hostage as he was standing at the corner ,away from kang, kang jinhyeok proceeds to induce anger in yoosung while showing vile sides of them to barbarians to create more neative impressions , while reaching closer to backside of gate ,vamps lets go off yoosung and runs away, with previous impressions left barbarians will help jinhyuk in getting back at them ,as for vamps part ,it was trap that they took yoosung as hostage , jinhyuk implanted some trackers on yoosungs body beforehand which had passed down to the vamps leg ,which leaves trace to follow but vamp will probably think of everything this way ,by this what vamp will think he did it to know the place of the gate that connects to demon realm since vamps came from there and would likely to return there to inform gunt ,so what vampires do is to remove those trace and devices and return to their territory floor and decide they'll notify later to gunt about that becaz they'll act like they had fierce fight and both side injured before they left, cutting connection with gunt here was what jinhyuk aimed for from start so that they don't become a variable in direct battle for now ,jinhyuk already predicted where gate would according to guntafers nature of trying to conceal and maintain efficiency(it was at place of singularity,end ofeach floors,there's a lot place but the concealing criteria as factor jinhyuk found the possible place and went there with barbarian) . when they went there barbarians immediately went through the gate ,rushing in and started battle in demon realm directly(due to their stupidity ,but jinhyuk also wanted this becaz when gunt will get notified about this he will also think handling all barbarians is not possibble and if he followed any stategic setup with barbarians,they will have bad impression due to their nature, and direct confrontation like this helps demon realm more as it's their territorry and they can use their all) , after this the main part of the plan starts, so far it was mainly preparation process.

While the direct confrontation of soldiers and barbarians are ongoing, jinhyuk activates cheonrajimang(a hax that can pursue but using it from different angle he can observe entire demon territorry as whole) and with that he locates & predicts 3 possible supply routes(according to guntafers thinking pattern and judgement) out of thousands in a second, with help of hooded crane who governs weather and atmosphere he quickly reaches that place, there were supplies to invade in guntafers territory (when jinhyuk had left for 31st floor previously he knew other demon kings and gunt also will target him to take over the base immediately in kangs absence and gunt himself will watch over belials move from afar to keep him in check so when belial exerts his powers he can intervene and quickly achieve victory, though this situation is a bait that will be realised later for various matters,well the remanants of heavenly demons and a small troupe of barbarian was there to resist the ambush so belials territory Doesn't fall off fast and can hold on till the situated time for kang). With gogumas breath, hooded cranes atmosphere manipulation and prieds scorching whirlpools combined alligned attack wiped out the soldiers there and he reached the carriages for skillbooks and ability storer finding better ones for later uses (guntafer who thought about this happening prepared extra barriers to shield them which r made of demonic languages but jinhyuk could still unseal them using ancient barrier and lost lang, most of them Weren't that high rank as guntafer wanted them to avoid falling in kangs hands, but still this ability storer and skillbook, jinhyuk could use them to enhance and remodel his existing abilities). At the main gate of guntafers territorry pudalak(barbarians leader) and dark emperor of moorim takes the guards on again while jinhyuks main team goes toward main fortress travelling under drainage ditch, when they reached the barricade if fortress, it was shielded with barriers, alarm magic which were out of jinhyuks hand too due to high demon mage making them so jinhyuk had used different method to make door slight open quickly while avoiding alarm and getting in quickly, guntafer already expected jinhyuk to come through this side, sets up maze trap creater balester to hold him off in that place with traps and maze, in the maze & traps it was not only balesters set up from gunts resources, hero paris was also using sneak attack time to time, analysing the situation kang also realises paris is backing balester rn.

to catch paris offguard jinhyuk takes the relic of golden apple (the dispute that destroyed his homeland due to hera,athena,aphrodite) ,jinhyuk had taken that golden apple from guntafers base at first paragraph when i said jinhyeok ambushed in blaine fortress, paris seeing the golden apple and hearing jinhyeok talking about his infidelity in that incident makes him break out in rage ,which leads to paris trying to take out kang quickly ,he uses the critical arrows with all targetting and accelaration magic but jinhyuk was able to predict where he'll aim becaz jinhyeok successfully provoked him ,and paris had first targetted ankle(like he did agaist achiles) and jinhyeok immediately activates the golden apple , which leds to getting in another dimension temporarily while time is frozen & hera ,athena and aphrodite appears . the reason why jinhyuk took golden apple from gunts base previously is becaz back in 30th floor when he first saw paris ,he saw in his copy conditions that if he passes te golden apple test infront of him while reminding the shame and agony of parises past he'll able to copy the golden apple ability,kang had already expected parises involvement due to previous incident in 30th floor(this powers utilizing will be seen soon) . when the three goddesses offers things so that kang chooses to give the apple to them ,jinhyuk would drop the apple on the floor denying to choose anyone because he believes neither of them ,although it makes them furious , but jinhyeok proceeds to apologize and he would say "don't u have one already ,so you shouldn't mind about it" which makes them end up thinking this way that getting chance of achieving golden apple when will come no one knows, and if this procedure doesn't continue then aphrodite alone remains as the owner of golden apple, and while golden apple is important ,the person u r getting it from is also important and ofc all of them knows jinhyuk has more achievement than prince of troy paris, paris who is known as hero in greek mythology and kang who is known as miracle creater who averted impossible adversities like shub nigurath,kraken etc , golden apple is something those three took pride on in their mythology, so in the end they asked him what does he want and jinhyuk demanded to get out of this dimension and return to where they were ,due to that jinhyuk without using his own powers he ends destroying balesters maze and traps and gets out of it and paris who saw jinhyuk getting out f the dimension of choice without a scratch and there seemed no hatred or fighting ongoing between the three goddesses ,rather they worked together to get him out of that , for this and paris witnessing it jinhyuk successfully copies the golden apple ability. now at the time of choosing who to give golden apple to ,jinhyeok gives to aphrodite and she goes back leaving hera and athena who's angered about why he gave that to her but jinhyeok shifts the blame towards paris saying he got that from him and paris had also instructed him to choose aphrodite , making paris the center of hatred but still they hold anger toward jinhyeok but jinhyeok who has already copied the goldenapple ability gives them two golden apple as well , though they don't feel pride in it as there were no need of competition from start and they were just manipulated but they can't give up the opportunity either which makes aphrodites position higher , so they leave with the golden apple they got and at the same time due to maze getting destroyed ,the safety alarm goes on which was why reinforcements imediately came, alongside behemoth there were several other demons who surrounded kang but alice finally returns with reinforcemens as well (jinhyeok had left her on different mission beforehand to go and persuade gabriel to come and join with his troupes, he gave the necessary ingridients according to what gabriel desires and needs to place the negotiations and here they are)

after guntafer gets notified about gabriel angels troupes invading ,he still wouldn't interfere becaz he is still observing the belials side and if he moves out belial would be able to sense guntafers absence and he won't conserve his powers anymore and he would become a variable(that's y jinhyeok had left small reinforcement for resisting the attack on belials territorry , to control guntafers thinking) so if guntafer himself can't go he'll give his soldiers sealing stone ,a demonic relic that blows off in presence of holy power with high destructive capacity(though it endangers his own soldiers there who r fighting but that doesn't matter to him) and on that path where the soldiers will go to fighting place of kang with that stone , frey the homunculus will be there to block(jinhyeok knows frey alone will be able to block becaz there's a condition for homunculus evolution it's to priortize the will over order of survival and risk, jinhyeok had builded the affinity by making it function more like an human instead of a homuncoulus(long explanation but in short it's same as aidens method on evangeline in riot arc),and with that condition fulfilled freys evolved form will be able to take down the demons there and stop before the stone gets to place where kang is fighting , meanwhile that where kang is fighting ,it's one sided fight after gabriels troupe joined too and alice returned so jinhyeok focussed o a way to get behemoth to his side and not fight him , to preserve energy till his fight with guntafer , and according to behemoths powers copy conditions which demands that jinhyuk should beat it in what behemoth prides in most ,eating growth ,as it's more glutonous than sin of gluttony , jinhyeok purposely created a situation where behemoth activates eating growth to enhance his powers and at that point jinhyeok will provoke it and make bets on an eating competition where the system of tot will scale and losers ability will sealed for short time , behemoth who is known for most glutounous and this chance to take down kang ,will agree on it (and ofc there showdown can't be seen by others since system will be scaling , and jinhyeok wons the bet though by cheating which leds to behemoth getting his powers sealed , and easy target for kaang to kill even if kang can't kill he'll be heavily injured and at that time kang will form orders for their negotiations , jinhyeok points out to fact of guntafer leaving his subordinate to die, behemoth could sense the sealing stone from afar and even without that he knows guntafers nature , but even so he can't betray guntafer as they r bound by contract and that's when jinhyeok offers behemoth to act like falling unconcious from fight , so that he can have most profit , if kang ends up defeating guntafer he gets freed , even if guntafer wins he won't be claimed as traitor as jinhyuk left marks of using a relic of ragnarok which is usuable to make opponent lose consciousness , so guntafer won't treat behemoth as traitor , that's why behemoth decides to act long as kang planned , with this kang won and behemoth didn't deal much damage either,in that comprtition pried & goguma were re-energized who will be used later as well in confronting guntafer .

uptill now everything went along within kangs setted way everything ,but this time guntafer finally shows up leaving the previous risk of belials intervening(previously explained) and another variable that is uriels & kizakiels side in eden comes to side to help guntafer and they plan to put all blame on gabriel if many angels die ,since uriel is more influencial(there is political strive between gabriel & uriel) , guntafers intervening was faste than he thought of, jinhyuk assessing the changes he distributes the troupes to different parts efficiently so that all of em can hold on andwin, gabriel and uriels fight is helped by remia and alice so that uriel will be forced to retreat faster too, and with his eye of gluttony he looks into guntafers powers copy conditions : 1. Guntafer is currently dealing with all sorts of powers that can do great damage to the Pandemonium for his own purposes. Even if there is a risk that the Pandemonium itself may collapse due to the aftermath. Expose his plan.
2. Guntafer’s unique sacred chant, ‘Deal of Deep Desire’, is one of the best spirit-type abilities in the upper classes. Rescue one of your most trusted allies who accepted the deal.
If both conditions are met, you will be able to copy one of Guntaper’s unique holy spear, unique abilities, and skills. and jinhyeok looks up in yoosungs abilities copy conditions too, which is to make him indeaniably indebted not just gratitude, jinhyeok had already thought from before to give it a shot of exposing him and turning him into enemy of demons, so externally he thoughts of a way to fulfilled the 2nd condition and yoosungs one together, so with trio of kang,yoosung & teressateams while he sends the 2nd moorim to dark emperor and pudalak for them to team up and hold of the demons at the weakest point of barrier of this fortress, with guntafers direct intervening other demons will also try to come & join through there and guntafer can also crush the barrier,so it will be better to keep it in check so the balance doesn't crush and for backup making a troupe of barbarian and jackals incase of they want to escape(this is simply buying time, also demons move more due to interest,guntafer is most influencial so wanting hids recognition as future candidate is needed, and up till now the fight was within kangs favour and gunt also didn't intervene so they also didn't take any risk). while jinhyeok and yoosung will become duo(as they have more sync in their ability for both being mainly swordsman) and teressa will support from back as she's the saintess her help is needed, and now fight starts guntafer activates grasp of submision(an ability that ignores all laws and pull any object,opponent towards his hand and control their movement within close range), jinhyeok who matches the attack patterns and dodges barely while landing it(even though gunt is demon king he doesn't kno all martial arts & swordsmanship form perfectly ,jinhyuk knows that and uses his knowledge on this and easily predicts attack patterns and evades and lands few its tho they do nothing). both jinhyeok and yoosung gets in their sworsmanship form but before they complete it guntafer uses the grasp again pulling them, jinhyeok & yoosung who reached near him jinhyeok immediately activated nihilism(an ability that nullifies ability but it can never affect demon king, so to make minimum affect jinhyeok raised it spending adaptive and rift stat, so that it can disrupt the affect of grasp a bit) and with this gap yoosung and jinhyeok both reached near him attacks him, although yoosung couldn't land an attack jinhyeok was able to(both of them wields 2 swords each,jinhyeok also took out his dragon slayer sword barnard and the sword of red dragon he extorted from a manager). jinhyeok also enhanced both swords with different abilities t land multiple if he reaches close range, teressa from back supports with holy cross star falls making ways by creating attack near gunt as well so yoosung & kang can reach near him, both jinhyeok and yoosung attack but still guntafer responds easily, jinhyeok who had used two different element of opposite pole to enhance his swords, was able to create bright light burst when it contacted gunts sword(both sword fell on one another leading polar opposite element trying to sync leading to that burst) and in that gap jinhyeok gets in shadow of gunt and attacks from backside but guntafer still responds holding it before it reaches, though that wasn't the intention , this time jinhyeok fused three different skills and when it was on holded on swords overlapping and stopping near gunt, it fused and formed hammer of flame golem and hitted guntafer (jin had fused air blast,blocking invisible shield,flame of begining, these abilities r from the skillbook he had gotten by ambushing in the route previously), while making sure guntafers sword doesn't responded he added aditionally added glacial modeling activation and black tears corruption to create the gap not letting the sword respond to defend timely, but still it didn't even scratch properly gunt ,and before gunt counterattacks ,teressa activates call of stars to fall on guntafer to create gap for kang distancing, guntafer didn't have much damage but jinhyeoks this tactic also didn't let gunt attack either , which made the situation annoying and time consuming for guntafer , guntafer didn't think of this as threat but, he had also saw goguma and pried fully charged but they haven't joined the fight yet and opponent is dragging time, and he had also realized alice will soon join the battle ,he also realised jinhyeoks decision of letting alice join in gabriel to quickly drive out uriel and later use her as sudden variable and lastly belial, guntafer who had left the place to come where and fight kang, it's holding on for now caz he's been on shielding for too long but if belial feels gunts manas absence there for too long than he won't save up power anymore like he was doing and he would also join this battle, making it more complicated, so guntafer activates one of his unique skill "deal of deep desire" , a contract where gunt exploits others needs,inner desires,fears and forms contract promising to fulfill them and takes them as his soldier. guntafer uses that on both teressa and yoosung who r present here beside jinhyeok ,(yes jinhyeok did all that previously to purposely led to this situation becaz it will give him that chance to fulfill gunts 2nd condition and yoosungs condition at same time).

jinhyeok had also predicted whatever will happen later as well, he knew only yoosung will fall in this contract of guntafer, becaz the main theme of this mind control contract is feeding desire,needs,insecurities and filling them but teressa who has split personality(due to corruption,and they r polar opposite) guntafer can't fill that requirement as both would have different desires and they r going to argue over themselves leading to time consumption and failure , on otherhand yoosung who solely wants to beat kang for past 11 years will be lured by this contract and get under guntafer , and within that time as both gunt and kang predicted alice joins this side while yoosung gets persuaded by guntafer . jinhyeok was supplying enough mana to alice while maintaining this fight so that she can go rampage and join here timely, and as for that timely intervening ,jinhyeok acts like praising and pleased with alice to stimulate the jealousy & negative emotions in teressa so that she switches with corruption form , reason is to maintain efficiency ,while jinhyeok deals with yoosung ,both teressa and alice can create better synergy as they r actually competing with each other as well , they will create better synergy to keep on offense to make better hit on gunt and getting that gap ,due to their inner competition they will be able to hold on the fight properly, and now as for yoosungs side , jinhyeok clearly induces him on using his battlefield selection barrier, yoosung won't deny caz so far he did his everything to create a chance to beat him ,and this barrier skill also buffs yoosungs skills so he got no reason to refuse , and now in this deserted place inside barrier the fight between two starts . jinhyeoks dragging the fight by making him use his best abilities , so that the signs start showing ,like black veins showing up ,hair turning white,ofc yoosung will also start noticing this state(this is happening becaz humans r outside of towers residence and by accepting demons contract his body will also start showing symptoms of demonic nature as he is getting powers from guntafer) , when yoosung notices the abnormality , jinhyeok activates judgement of anubis(which can debuff opponents abilities if they answer 3 questions of user while convo), jinhyeok previously induced into getting in this zone shielded bybarrier for this reason, if this ability were to be seen outside an all out war can occur between egypt myth and demons, jinhyeok casually asks about his symptoms and clarifying it, while this is just for activation condition of judgement of anubis, and as fighting continues after the qna ,yoosung notices his body getting more heavier,feeling weaker(affects of anubis judgement), but jinhyeok had told beforehand that for those symptoms his lifeforce will be getting used instead of getting power and later for side effects he'll slowly get weaker , yoosung recalls those words and now thinks he told the truth(well it's a lie yk) , the symptom gets more spreaded as yoosung still tries to exert moe power, and he realises his pupils color has also changed and horns growing out from his head, yoosung will feel devastated , he betrayed everything to get this chance to beat kang, but he still couldn't beat(judgement of anubises debuff),he's gotten scammed by guntafer(due to kangs lies previously and these symptoms),jinhyeok guilt trips him more on that weakpoint,the fact that he betrayed jinhyeok,teressa who trusted him,the peoples of his countries who had faith in him as sword saint,betraying humanity, to the point yoosung loses his will to live anymore at this state , and at moment of hopelessness jinhyeok gives him hopes that he can turn back human again ,making him feel immensely indebted to kang (condition for yoosungs ability copy and breaking the control of guntafer,gunts 2nd copy condition), jinhyeok just tells yoosung to lay down act unconscious caz untill guntafer dies ,the contract won't go away totally, so yoosung acts injured,defeated,unconscious as the barrier breaks and jinhyeok returns to main fight guntafer notices that fight is dragging on, and it seemed yoosung didn't injure kang while kang injured hm and defeated him(gunt thinks kang might have been preserving powers and he hadn't show his fullpowers, well that's a lie) most of all kangs ancient beasts who were previously recharged hasn't joined the battle,and he senses broadcasting system devices made up from far away(jinhyeok had left a troupe to do that beforehand,but it's not totally that),guntafer thinks kang might have left those to show outside world the fight here is ongoing, and left those ancient beasts to bring reinforcements from other worlds, to make gunt thinking more that it's broadcast system kang had putted mask of player unknown disguising himself as player unknown ,how he raids in floor while always broadcasting it to earth, and tere's no progress on guntafers attack so far while dragging on more time would led to belial also realising guntafer is here and belial also joining here ,overally it will very difficult for guntafer to win ,guntafer calls his buttler and asks what's going on outside what happended to demons troupe of other candidate, and butler replies jinhyeok had sent a troupe there to handle em(the dark emperors and pudalaks, he did at start), guntafer realises ,due to their nature they must be dragging that fight and handling while creating no casualties for them ,caz joining here can led to more risky, they r showing their participation while doing the leat contribution, so guntafer decides to use the sealing stone indirectly, since there was angels fighting here previously there r remanants of holy power so activation condition is done, he decies to send his butler to take them(those demons troupes) here and while they comes here he will manipulate the time of sealing stones burst, so that it bursts in their presence and it deals huge damage on their troupes and guntafer will act like it was jinhyeoks trap, to shift hatred toward kang so that they finally join in direct main fight & kang gets busy in handling them ,and takethem here by promising them belials ring(that ring can make them turn into next candidate),this is to motivate their engagement in coming here to combat while showing that belial is in bad shape & shielding rn, so joining now and taking down kang now will be less risky with all out charge of em, by that ,the butler lures them close to this battlefield and later using the sealing stone to induce the hatred as guntafer planned, and as fight drags on to the point when he notices his butler coming here with those dem troupes, he bursts the sealing stone there as planned and deals massive damage to his own territorry(playing victim) and those demons, and he also lets kanng deal a few lil bruises on him for plaing victim, jinhyeok quickly says he realized guntafes plan which was to create this situation to shift the blame on kang andbelial, guntafer smiles in affirmation and jinhyeok says it's madness to deal such damage to his own kinds, which guntafer says it's nature of demons to not discriminate with anyone and use everything for victory, and this conversation was jinhyeoks aim, the broadcast system was not broadcasting it just to earth and other floors,due to heart of anthrad(he got in empire vs moorim arc),and a few other things he got in 27th floor of demonic humans base,it was for making the hologram system amplify and transmit this incident all over demon realm so that they can see guntafers true nature(copy condition 1 & kangs true aim from first), this turns the theme upside down , guntafer who is a demon king candidate close to succession becomes center of hatred of the demons who had dealt the damage there ,as they saw through the convo thanks to the broadcast system, and due to this the demon will target guntafer not kang(due to previous try of playing victim guntafer let himself get injuries too), and even after guntafer flees kang doesn't follow him caz there'ss another function of this hologram that the area it will be transmitting in the broadcast, if any inside object of the stream goes out of screen range it will be able to track it due to leaving traces on every object in that area, so jinhyeok lets other demons chase guntafer and he knows even after that guntafer will still find escape routes , but in his exhausted state , tnx to trace jinhyeok would immediately know his location there and go & kill him.
