30th floor Strategy (scene after kraken arc and right before pandemonium war arc)

.

30th floor is choosing theme, like teressa chose vaticans
And jinhyeok yoosung came here to heavenly demons, here their mission(according to clearing the floor)is to choose sides between heavenly demons factions(they r mostly living divided)and help them win against others while not letting dispute between moorim & heavenly demons take place.
Here after jinhyeok and yoosung comes with their masters of moorim(dark emperors) they see heavenly demons teamed up together,rather than being separated.Here what guntafer wanted was to catch kang at a happen where modt likely he wouldn't expect him to, like now when his territory is half destroyed abd rebuilding(due to kraken arc incident),but due to help from uriel & athena guntafer gets reinforcement,new weapons enhancements, etc.He indirectly used remia to negotiate(what it looks from outside) with the sly one from heavenly demons side, rather he's actually using remias power to get them under his command, he makes them(heavenly demons) work as a group to separate kangs grou(up untill now guntafer noticed it in kangs strategies that while facing adversity and multiple abime, he redistributes powers and splits troupes for battle,to hold on and win overally.
While that situation jinhyeok will take on bertmounth(that sly one),sure guntafer knows even though bertmounth is cunning and has a lot of preparations and backup cards, he'll still lose, but then at the end of that fight paris(from greek mythology) and 4 demon kings bloodkin will show up and ambush both side of heavenly demons(the other troupes who r fighting kang & yoosungs masters) and kang himself.
And they'll ask to directly fight or hand over the bertmounth(now jinhyeok can't do that, if all heavenly demon loses/dies in case of stalemate,every players will be penalised by getting restricted in that dimension forever) so jinhyeok will prolly fight or escape, no matter which he chooses he'll take bertmounth since if bertmounth dies it just helps the stalemate position, and bertmounth in that gap will use a relic he got, which if he uses while other side(opponent) is not fully conscious about the attack and gets striked(even if other one can defend) all of his artifacts will get stolen and owned by bertmounth.
If kang were to ditch bertmounth right away and he dies here and the heavenly demons die on that side too, he's penalised (since heavenly demons came in a group due to guntafers set up, they'll be easy target for ancient species behemoth who's present there and here is also one olympus warrior and high rank demons,they shown other sides ambush scene in crystal orb infront of kang too, to force his decision)

so to counter the situation ,when kang is ambushed he immediately thought of a way to turn the tables upside down,jinhyeok first used tripple magic using ice and fire magic together to make large area water vapoure,while using daylight mandala to strengthen it alongside primeval flame explosion ,to escape with bertmouth and leaving yoosung teressa ancient beasts behind with the paris and high rank demons ,so that they can hold on here .
when kang escaped and came to secluded spot and he first breaks pendant of bertmouth stopping him from possible thieving,and hade frozen his cuts on his body and used his blood to disrupt his inner ki and destroyed his relics so that bert got no chance to heal,so cornered bert gets into negotiations with kang for him to be double agent acting on both side for his best position and jinhyeok had perceived beforehand that 30th floor manager was watching over from start, he forcibly brings her out and persuades her (first criticism in dutiness then slowly sympathasizing when she got into stuttering position,to slowly make her fall in favour for next steps, where he talks about gains if she follows her dutiness ,kangs connection with bendivia might let her to highest position of middle floors incharge as well,and later gave some instruction),now kang moves into where heavenly demons were taking on moorim(due to disputes of years and now gunt setting things up) he and bertmouth will be taking on behemoth,and here the manager of here will intervene and jinhyeok will use the prepared gate to call for help from egypt gods and belial, but gunt who already predicted upto this point(he knew jinhyeok would be able to persuade mid manager and later with bendivias authority and this managers execution jinhyeok will be able to activate gate) he had sent his armies in belials territory and olympus gods went to egypt to hold em off, leaving no chance to respond in further behemoth will engage in combat with bert & kang, but upto this point wasn't kangs goal, the gate is double faced ,alice who was in braham ring ,released before they came here was working on securing the moorims and taking to other secret spots using the gate,there's none to stop here since heavenly demons r also injured,yoosungs side was taking on the soldiers(previously said) and olympus and his main armies r also busy, so kang and bert will be only left on this side of gate while it's losing power slowly,behemoth will try to drag time but it won't be affecting much since kang had secured a few items to use crown of defeat for short time ,with which he takes the gap of baiting baiting bert and leaving through gate,and now bert is left alone infront of gunt.
he would try to reason with his other heavenly demons that he had seized the jade and taken hostage of his artifact but bert would give up info of where kang would go(well that can be a bait trap too but gunt can infere between truth and lie and the info bert gives is truth and forces gunt to prep and block kang),bert says he'll target to go to murimmayeong mountain where mana is rich and there he would be able to nurture the ancient species egg he got from horus before and can make the process fasten with bonfire of ragnarok,to hatch it fast to use against behemoth.

jinhyeok knows gunt won't kill him directly since bert said truths and gunt is also aware of that place, so gunt will send his kins to murims gathering first to persuade them how he did sem for heavenly demons while using remias mind control powers, for strenghthening the deal so that they end up agreeing, they give same proposal(that they will help wiping out other force called heavenly demons from this realm, it's just for momentary hold on time ,making them go against each other ,while gunt and behemoth will go to the murimmayeoung),murim side who r aware of jinhyeoks plan after they had negotiated won't be moved by the offer since they know it's just loss, so those kins will be handled by yoosung,teressa,allice who had regained formation after leaving that place through gate, meanwhile in that murim mountain, he would be able to sense goguma gathering energy of the place which is best efficiency for ancient species(earlier said in egg part,since it can make it hatch faster),gunt sensing it would realise murim had sided with kang, since without their recognition they can't enter this valley(that's the other reason y gunt said his kins for negotiations),gunt will use heavenly demons first to chase and corner them and he'll join later when it'll seem they r ou of cards or escaping through a route,he knows that kang would sent them with this valleys map so that they can escape and shield using the environment too, he activates eye of abyss looking over the entire valley and pointing goguma and the beasts position and sends heavenly demons and keeps on observing ,he's convinced that the egg is real from it's mana flow and detecting the bonfire being real there,the chase goes on for a while as kang had gave them diversion tactic hints according to the environmental,and a few artifacts to keep up for a while but gets up in the corner in the end and as said previously goguma uses his dragon breath to break heavenly demons formation and as they were about to turn back to escape guntafer and behemoth catches them and the egg.

When guntafer breaks the egg, he realizes it was fake, it was spreading faked mana and was deceiving him, and he also believed that for the bonfire too because It's only one time position, It's absurd to risk it losing too and they had used on the egg too before(detected by abysal eye) but what the enrich energy Was spreading was not the egg rather jinhyeok remodified the bonfire two reasons first to gather the enrich energy here and emit it as well while it heats the fake egg and for other is, when they'll get out from here, the stored energy+bonfires true power can make same effect of hatching the egg as it would've been if it was in mountain, jinhyeok had already reached that place within that time, and actually gogumas goal was not successful attack on true enemies, rather heavenly demons which he did, and now all moorim surrounds the valley and also jinhyeok uses the privilege of gate he got from mid manager of this flor before, uses that to summon heimdall and at same time uses 12 constellation barrier "end of deep sleep* which works on mind controlled and brainwashed victims but only when they are weakened too(due to goguma) and it connects with gubtafers authority and remias magic and disrupts the effect of their control over those heavenly demons, and the another reason why bertmounth is here becaz he had soul stone which increases barrier proficiency to max, fastening the process, and heimdall also here shifts this place to where belial is fighting gunts troops, It's belials territory(heimdalls part is only this), belial uptill now Was just barely fighting(jinhyeok had notified him before about his plans), so now heavenly demons and moorims who were deceived and manipulated, goes against gunt as well, they take on his kins, goguma takes on behemoth and here kang leaves the real egg on the bonfire and he goes to fight gunt who had activated full armament and jinhyeok also fully utilized his best weapons and abilities while main goal is just to hold on for 5 mins till egg hatches and in the time jinhyeok uses pisces barriers whichs ability is distortion, it deflects attack on user but missed attack can biunce to different side but that's no prob since most forces here are from guntafer, so the odds are like 1/10, he used this method to deflect the attack on the troops taking on belial, and belial who had been charging dark spear kishan, was waiting for that moment caz he was target locking gunts position and used kishan to attack gunt in that time while gunt Was devastated, focused on kang, and also angered from continuous loses, So jinhyeok uses this chance to shift places with belial and he takes on gunt, and within that time the egg hatched and the Phoenix was born, and jinhyeok uses that to team up with goguma and take on behemoth, It's mainly a bluff here, bcaz to guntafer It's like he's about to lose behemoth too and his other soldiers r occupied,in bad shape and also his connections of olympus ain't working becaz of egypt, so he's forced to retreat from further battles and jinhyeok would let it pass tho, caz he also fears about extra variables of olympus might come here again and other demons who r neutral might side with gunt, seeing a human here,so this is why he Let's go off guntafer. And they also retreat to belials base for preparing themselves for next war (pandemonium war)

Some characters identities :
Guntafer : demon king candidate(rivaling with belial who is another candidate)
Behemoth : an ancient species who works under guntafer due to their contract
Remia : a demon who specializes in seduction,mind control magic, works under guntafer.
Bloodkins : monsters made of blood drops of high rank demons or demon king.