Kotomine Kirei
“The Saint of Darkness”

"I will kill. I will let live. I will harm and heal. None will escape me.
None will escape my sight.
Be crushed.
I welcome those who have grown old and those who have lost.
Devote yourself to me, learn from me, and obey me.
Rest. Do not forget song, do not forget prayer, and do not forget me.
I am light and relieve you of all your burdens.
Do not pretend. Retribution for forgiveness, betrayal for trust, despair for hope, darkness for light, dark death for the living.
Relief is in my hands. I will add oil to your sins and leave a mark.
Eternal life is given through death.
— Ask for forgiveness here. I, the incarnation, will swear.

— Kyrie eleison".

Scale of the situation(For Fate/Zero + Fate/Stay Night) :

The Holy Grail War (聖杯戦争, Seihai Sensō?) is a competition that decides the ownership of the Holy Grail through intense battle royale. While there have been many conflicts over supposed Holy Grails in the past, this term refers to those specifically based around Masters, usually proficient magi, summoning Servants, Heroic Spirits brought forth as familiars, and meeting in battle until only one pair is left to claim the Holy Grail.

Let’s Start :

[Fate/Zero]

[Episode 1 - Chapter 2]

Kiritsugu explained that Kirei trains dozens of times harder than everyone else when he is learning a new skill which makes him able to learn any skill to the peak of his ability with frightening speed, and when he is just one step to mastery he leaves that skill and goes to another one as if the other one was garbage to him.

[Episode 1 - Chapter 12]

After looking and reading the document on Kiritsugu, Kirei was able to understand that there is a real reason behind the participation of Kiritsugu in the holy grail war beyond those documents and beyond money or simple assassination.

THERE CAN BE NO MISTAKE...
...THIS MAN KIRITSUGU HAS NO REGARD FOR SELF-INTEREST.
THERE IS NO BALANCE BETWEEN PROFIT AND RISK IN HIS ACTIONS.
THIS IS NOT A FREELANCER WHO'S AFTER MONEY.
IT'S LIKE HE HAD SOME OBSESSION WITH MARCHING HIMSELF INTO THE JAWS OF DEATH...
...HIS BEHAVIOR WAS CLEARLY SELF-DESTRUCTIVE.

SO...WHAT DOES HE WANT?
FWAP
IN WHICH CASE, THESE FANATIC, NEAR-RUINOUS WANDER-INGS...
...ARE THEY IN TRUTH A PILGRIMAGE... SEEKING FOR ANSWERS THAT HE'D LOST?
THAT'S WHAT TOKIOMI SAID ABOUT HIM.
A MAGE WITH NO PRIDE, A MAN WHO HAS LOST HIS FAITH.

[Episode 2 - Chapter 4-5]

Kirei told his servant to go and assassinate Tohsaka Tokiomi telling him that there is nothing to fear and his servant trusted his words thinking that Kirei wanted to kill Tokiomi to win the grail.

But it turns out that this was Tokiomi and Kirei's plan to show the power of Gilgamesh to induce fear into the other masters while making them think that Assassin has been defeated which will give them hope in winning while not realizing the truth.

And this also gave Kirei protection from the church since he theoretically withdrew from the war.

[Episode 6 - Chapter 17]

From the information on Lancer Vs Saber's battle, Kirei predicted that Kiritsugu will immediately go hunt down Kayneth, and his prediction was right and he was able to deduce the perfect position that an assassin like Kiritsugu would use to watch the building from a far.

Later (I don't understand how) Maiya told Kiritsugu that Kiritsugu's attack on the building where Kayneth is was all a bait made by Kirei to lure him out.

Kirei acted as if he accepted his Teacher Tokiomi gift sincerely while waiting for him to turn his back to kill him on the spot so that he can take Gilgamesh as his servant and stay in the war.

[Episode 21]

Kirei offered for Kariya unlimited command spells if he orders Berserker to capture Irisviel who is the vessel of the grail.

He also told him to order Berserker to take the form of Rider to deceive Kiritsugu into thinking that it was Rider after Irisviel (Which Kiritsugu didn't fall for) and Kariya accepted Kirei's offer and captured Irisviel but he also demanded a meeting with Tokiomi without knowing that he is dead.

Kirei told him to come to the church at midnight that day.

Kirei set up Tokiomi's corpse in the church as if it was sitting normally on the chairs giving only its back to conceal the fact that he is dead on which Kariya started cursing him and yap against it until he got closer to him and then the corpse fell on the ground making Kariya realize that he is dead.

And there it turns out that Kirei called Tokiomi's wife to come to the church at the same time and she saw to her eye the scene where her husband fell on the ground making her know that he is dead which made her think that Kariya is the one that killed him and she started blaming him on that, until Kariya got out of control and killed her even tho he cared so much to her.

And the reason for all of that is joy and getting rid of the Master of Berserker without fighting him.

[Section 3]

Kirei decided to conceal his abilities in combat to avoid making U-Olga Marie remember that she is the Alien God which will force him to fight against Chaldea immediately without being prepared.

(I think he's right, Senpai. If Olga Marie learns that he's a Disciple of the Foreign God...)

(...she'd then learn who and what the Foreign God actually is, too.)

(There's no telling how she might react if she learns the truth.)

(So if we're going to keep this up, I think we have no choice but to bring him with us and go along with his butler act.)

Mash saw through her Machine that in the underworld, the humanity value is fluctuating and Kirei explained it this way :

It means this location is subject to both the Chronicle Theoretical Phenomenon and the Pruning Theoretical Phenomenon.

Put another way, the past, present, and future all mingle in this one spot, each equally valid.

In this place, you can summon as many Heroic Spirits with ties to Chaldea as your magical energy permits.

What's more, you can even temporarily draw on connections on things that may have happened or that may have been feasible.

For example, a Heroic Spirit
Fujimaru A never met...

...could still be summoned as long as
Fujimaru B DID meet them at some point.

That being said, there are still only so many Servants you can summon as a lone mage.

Conversely, with access to the Storm Border's power source, you could summon Servants by the hundred.

Like what you planned to do in Tunguska.

Adding a note by saying that this is the plan they (Chaldea and not Kirei) wanted to use against Koyanskaya in Tunguska making Mash reveal that this was actually in fact their plan asking Kirei how he knew, and Kirei said he didn't know, in fact he only said that to make Mash reveal that piece of information.

Knowing that they can’t enter Chichén Itzá without fighting Deinos by normal means, Kirei used a spell to disguise the whole team into Deinos so that they can enter without fighting anyone and make their way inside the city.

[Section 5] [Shared with U-Olga Marie]

After getting information about the fact that if you want to get an audience with the King of Deinos you have to win the “Xokta” which is basically football but with Deinosaurses.

They split all the teams into 3 groups which will participate in the tournament and try to win by themselves which will give them better chances for one of them to win and get an audience with the King of Deinos.

[Section 9]

Kirei showed an insane amount of knowledge about the Aztec Mythology explaining everything happening in detail.

By explaining it he was able to make us understand that the sacrifices that will happen next are a means to save the world in the eyes of Mexico city’s people (Ocelomehes), that’s why it must happen.

Meaning if they tried to save their teammates then they will have to do it by sneaking in and then running as quickly as they can or else they will have to go on a war with Mexico city’s people

(Ocelomehes) immediately.
