

Technoblade (Intelligence Scaling)

Disclaimer: This includes both real life and Minecraft Technoblade

Technoblade (1999-2022) was a Minecraft Youtuber was an American gaming YouTuber known for his Minecraft content and collaborations with other YouTubers and Twitch streamers. Many of his videos were primarily on the minigame server Hypixel. The channel rose to popularity starting in 2019 partly from his performances in player versus player (PvP) gameplay.

Feats:

- Had a 3.9 GPA despite doing no work. By no work I mean he basically did not want to do any homework and only did it when he was in the car. (National Merit)

- Did not take AP History, only regular history class and still got a 5 (max score) on the AP History Exam.

- First violin in orchestra.

- Was able to have a great sense of humor at a very young age, indicative of high intelligence

- Was able to quickly figure out that he could just go around the troll parkour that Skeppy had and used this multiple times

- Knew which sign said win and which said lose just by hearing Skeppy type letters

- Knew that Skeppy placed a barrier block

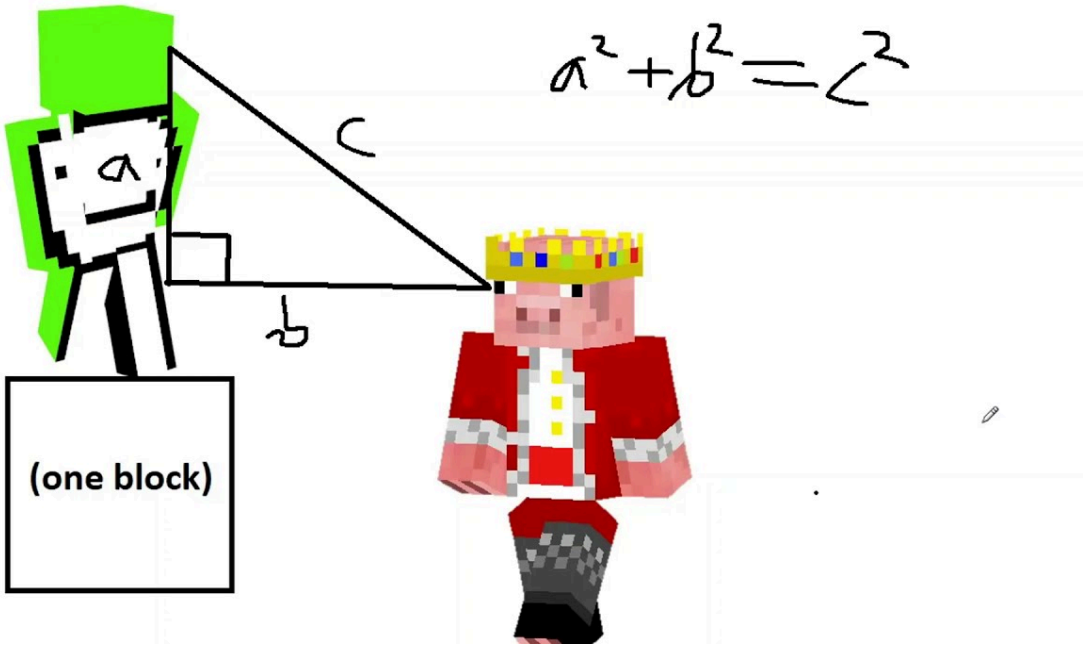

- Could tell apart lapis, blue wool and water from very high up. Skeppy couldnt from down there. (Tbf I can understand why that is just Skeppy being very stupid rather than Techno necessarily being very smart)

- Knew of the ancient, sacred crafting table pvp glitch

- Technoblade: But I am also luring him into this position which you will see in a second here. Bam! I've knocked him onto a ledge! This is huge. The reach you can hit people from begins at the players eyes so when Dream is a block higher than me it's much easier for me to hit his feet than for him to hit my head because the base of a right triangle is shorter than its hypotenuse. Stay in school kids. It makes you better at PvP.

- In the middle of a very high stakes duel Technoblade was still able to come up with a game-winning mathematical strategy. Probably an example of not just intelligence but also like composure.
- Technoblade: Fortunately I have something that Dream doesn't: Comprehensive knowledge of Ancient China. In a flash of inspiration (during a high stakes battle btw), I remember that in 227 BCE King Zheng escaped his assassin by circling behind a pillar. I replicated this mid-fight and healed to full health.
- His ADHD is so powerful that it psychologically tricks Dream when he is just randomly shearing the wood with his axe. Dream just does the same thing in confusion, not sure of what he is trying to do. It even confuses the MrBeast crew who thought he was asserting dominance. This only further confused Dream psychologically and allowed Technoblade to perform better than him.

- Beat Minecraft with a steering wheel

- Had two Bed Wars winstreaks of 1400 and 1818 wins respectively. He never lost any of those, he just gave them up himself.

- Insane game sense that allows him to win many Sky Wars and Bed Wars games as evidenced in those videos. The video shows his 1.8 PvP knowledge is very advanced.

- Won the Great Potato War using a combination of psychological tricks, mathematics and insane dedication. Basically a master-class in Minecraft warfare. What I am saying here is an understatement of how impressive this feat is, probably the most impressive thing he did.

- Figured out that you could just neo around the walls in MCC Hole in the Wall, something they patched later.

- He also figured out about /top in Minecraft Monday to defeat Vikk

- Realized he could just kill everyone and steal their items in MCC Bingo

- Lured an entire team into a very narrow corridor and trapped them in a cobweb and then shot them. He only died because Mefs had time to place lava and some cobwebs, but Mefs still died anyway due to the bow. He basically took down 3 people all by himself, even though his entire team was gone and he was not that equipped.

- Block glitched out of Skeppys thing

- Defeated Bed Wars players without using any PvP weapons

- Surprise attacked Skeppy with a block of sand that caused him to fall into the lava

- Tricked Chris into giving him a boat so that he can escape

- Tricked Tommy into signing a contract that he modified without Tommy knowing that had Technoblade be referred to as the alpha male instead of Tommy

- Did a 1v7 in MCC 10 Sky Battle, figuring out a way to blow up green team by using creepers as well, while also cobwebbing Dream so that he would die on the border.

- Immediately destroyed everyone who tried getting to his area in Minecraft Monday Spleef

- Did a 1v9 in Skywars with just a pickaxe

- Was such a good player that Minecraft Monday literally had to nerf him at every opportunity

- Surprise attacked Tommy in Bed Wars, exploiting the fact that his ego got boosted by killing Techno in Bed Wars (AY CARAMBA DONDE ESTA LA BIBLIOTECA!?! - also used psychological trick to make his opponent confused and unable to respond)

- Realized he could just break through the walls in Build Battle in Minecraft Monday

- Carefully pushed a player into a corner with just a wood block in Skywars so that he would be in a position such that he would be attacked by both him and the zombies

- Tricked everyone using his fame in a game of Murder on Hypixel to gather around him for a screenshot so that he could kill them all
