The reason why you lost to us

Is simple

You were having fun

If you have zero knowledge about SCD (Smart Characters Debates - IntelligenceScaling) I would recommend reading this :

[Notes]

- For anyone who doesn't know, Ritsuka has two genders.

- This Doc explains his intelligence feats "Main Quest" only Part 1.5, therefore no filler events or any one shots.

- Also, I will be referring to Ritsuka as "He" as long as the gender remains unknown in the feat.

- Ritsuka isn't a High Tier SCD character by any means, he has a lot of anti-feats which downgrades him a lot, at best he is a Low Tier SCD character.

Haxes related to Intelligence :

1- Whenever he makes a contract with a servant and at an unknown point (Mostly sleeping) he gets memories and information about the servants that he is contracted with allowing him to understand why they are what they are.

[General Knowledge - PSI]

2- Mystic Codes : Mystic codes allows Ritsuka to supply mana to servants and use multiple abilities since he can't use them himself due to lack of magical circuits and they also provide tolerance to attacks to some degree and not fully because once he is back from the mission all the pain they endured comes back to Ritsuka and puts him in bed out of pain.

[Stress Tolerance - Mental Fortitude]

- All the feats are done in a team situation, ultimately speaking Ritsuka doesn't have any intelligence feats in solo situations, which downgrades him in overall.

- [This was confirmed by Mash in her bond lines after OC4] almost every single fight that happened in the game was all strategized by Ritsuka.

[Overall Strategy - Overall Planning]

Scale of the situation :

The coming conflict will be premised upon a critical oversight of Chaldea in their efforts to preserve the Common Sense of Man -- "the beloved legacy of the King of Magecraft".

Ok let’s start :

{Shinjuku}

[Section 10 in The Game] - [Chapter 18.3 in The Manga]

After one glance at Edmond Dantes, Ritsuka realized that it wasn’t Edmond Dantes who is talking to him (because of the a few weird differences between him and Dante) but someone else who is using a certain magical spell to disguise as Dante, that servant laughed in relief about Ritsuka noticing and revealed himself to be Sherlock Holmes.

[This one is for the memes XD]

[Section 12 in The Game] - [Chapter 20.2 in The Manga]

Ritsuka disguised in the form of a female tricking everyone in the party that he was a female.(but credit to Holmes & Moriarty, they made him ho- I mean a perfect disguise)

[Disguise - Acting Skills(Not really)]

——---

[Section 18 in The Game]

Not knowing how he lost, Moriarty asked Ritsuka why he(Moriarty) lost even though he had thought of everything.

Ritsuka told him that because of the memories he made with them inside the singularity, he had fun with them, making him incapable of fighting at full strength against Ritsuka.

[A feat cuz why not?]

Ritsuka is capable of dancing Waltz with Jeanne Alter (Not mentioned in the game, I searched for the dance's name on google)

[Kine Control]

[Chapter 1]

Ritsuka was able to convince Fergus to join their team despite his lack of motivation which made Fergus very happy to help.

[EF - Social Skills - Motivation]

[Chapter 5]

Upon hearing Dahut's philosophy of Utopia and wanting something, Ritsuka countered her saying her methods are simply of a Lowly scum who drifts away and enjoys other's misery and pain.

[Naturalistic Intelligence]

—----------

[Chapter 8]

Ritsuka convinced to the resistance boy that his lack of ability to fight is nothing to be embarrassed of, he himself can’t fight in the front line, explaining to the boy that not everyone in the group should be involved in the fight, there are a lot of ways to be considered a help to the team without fighting straight forward and Ritsuka used Football as an example to explain that to the boy :

And he successfully cheered the boy.

Later in [Chapter 14] the boy had enough courage and motivated everyone in the resistance to fight alongside Ritsuka and his team but died in the process showing how much Ritsuka's words could affect others and allow them to move forward.

[Note, once Ritsuka realized what the boy did he fell into depression and couldn't sleep (He recovered thanks to Astolfo), therefore this is a feat that Ritsuka wasn't hoping to happen but happened]

[Chapter 13]

Wu Zetian decided to kill Ritsuka and his team [Astolfo + D'eon] and the fight started with Wu Zetian having an advantage thanks to Caster helping her, and Wu Zetian used one of her spells to disguise as one of her soldiers making her almost impossible to locate while fighting her.

And since fighting all her soldiers will be a waste of time and most likely end up making them lose a lot of energy, Ritsuka realized they need to locate Wu Zetain immediately and kill her, therefore he ordered young Fergus to use his Noble Phantasm to crush the whole floor, and ordered Astolfo to save the hostages and ordered D'eon to kill Wu Zetian.

Ritsuka idea of this :

1- Fergus's noble phantasm is able to destroy the whole floor easily even if he is in his child version.
2- Wu Zetain's soldiers aren't as powerful as her, meaning once a powerful attack comes up they won't be able to defend themselves unlike Wu Zetian, meaning she will be the only one to survive the attack.

Ritsuka predicted that she will avoid the attack to not get hurt and he knows that D'eon will understand his plan once Fergus crushes the floor and sees that one of the soldiers survived and jumped meaning that soldier is without a doubt Wu Zetian since she is the only one capable of surviving that.

And D'eon successfully understood that and stabbed Wu Zetian who jumped to the air to avoid the attack while she was still in disguise, marking the success of Ritsuka's tactic.

[Note above all of that, Wu Zetian is historically one of the smartest and cunning Chinese figures, making this one of the best Ritsuka's outsmarting feats]
