This doc will cover the achievements of the Riddler from dc doc made by Dominoo

white : general explanation and narrative
Red - Strategy, Planning, Tactics.
Green - EQ, FSIQ, academic, intellect and knowledge
Yellow - Deception
Orange Manipulation
Blue - Anticipation, Prediction.
pink - Reasoning and Thinking.
Light Purple - Perception, Observation, Cold Reading, Info Gathering.
cyan - Guesswork
magenta - statement

SOME EXPLICATION (btw the doc isn't close to be finished)

- If you have question, any comics related to Riddler you want me to analyse add me on discord : dominoo___

- Some analysis could be added in the future, Dc comics is a vast universe with many ressource to analyse

- Now let me explain why I put the categories "guesswork". Dc comics stories are not really focused on the outsmarting part but instead the plot, that's why in many comics it's said that Riddler figured out Batman identity. In some comics such as Year zero we can infer how he did, but in some we can't. i could start to make a general reasoning of how Riddler can induce batman identity like "Batman is rich, bruce is rich. Batman's body is well built, same for bruce, he has the technology of Wayne enterprise" and then i apply this to every comic but i don't find this very fair, that's why i decided to include this category.

- ANTI FEATS

Riddler has many anti feats in the old comics, his strategy were mid and Batman outsmarted him with ease. But this Era is over now, in most of the new comics Ridder is shown to be able to create complex plans and outsmart batman, even in the last batman film. That's why if you want to use Riddler in your video i will suggest you to not count his anti feats, DC comics is so vast that's pretty obvious than any character should have many anti feats especially Riddler who is focused on intelligence, his old comics are in my opinions really bad in term of outsmarting and don't represent the new Riddler of the new comics.

- RIDDLER NARRATIVE IN DC COMICS

INTELLECTUAL NARRATIVE

Let's start with the intellectual narrative of the Riddler, Nygma is presented in Dc comics to be a human being with an intellect far higher than any peak human, it will be backed up by Riddler one bad day. His intellectual narrative is similar to the one of Ayanokoji kiyotaka or Hannibal Lecter, a human far above any peak human and by far, nearly got a perfect memory, being able to surpass every peak human in their own academic domain in less than 2 year, be able to speak at 1 and half, Mastering 12 languages at 12 and more.

OUTSMARTING NARRATIVE

Now what about his outsmarting narrative, Nygma is always shown as someone two steps ahead of everyone ,manipulating and being aware of everything.
In most of the new comics with him he is able to outsmart Batman. If you read some comics you will probably say to me that Batman and Lex are stated to be 2 smartest humans on the earth and you are right, that's why I find the narrative contradictory. Lex is narratively far above Riddler and Batman is relative to him but still gets outsmarted most of the time, don't ask me why but i just let you know.

INTELLECTUAL SCALING WITHIN DC COMICS

So if you read comics you should know dc had an intellectual scaling long time ago but they stopped using it because they made too many contradictions. They didn't stopped using it because it was a Illogical but because they made too many contradictions. One of the ways of determining intellect lvl is to figure out how many separate trains of thought at what lvl of impressiveness someone can maintain at the same time. There are 12 lvl, the smartest in DC is Brainiac who is lvl 12, while i estimate Nygma to be lvl 6 which is considered "genius" in DC. while characters like batman or Lex will probably be around lvl 8. There isn't many information about this scaling sadly so i can't really show proof, this is just a assumption but considering the fact that current Nygma narrative is even higher than his old and they didn't stopped using it because it was illogical i think we can assume Nygma is lvl 6, which would be Insane CPI as he can maintain 6 thought, each one on a genius lvl at the same time

Riddler one bad day

This comics will cover Nygma Academic and intellectual ability
- Nygma learned to read at 1 and a half years old, at 5 years old he was already doing complex calculations (calculus) and knew Latin and Greek.
At 12 he spoke 12 languages and was an expert in a lot of Academic fields. When I say a lot he was an expert on musical theory, medicine, maths, literature, history, computer, science... After that he joined a genius institute, this institute had the best kid that the world could offer, but Nygma had perfect grades for 7 semesters, nobody had ever done something close to this. He managed to retain an entire book and after a maximum of 2 years he surpassed all the children at the institute in their own field, who were already the world's greatest prodigies, it means he surpassed genius in Math, literature,history,physics,Music... he know everything of each field, just mastering every part of maths at University level + is impossible but Nygma dit it in every field, as his father said "They had seen the best children the world had to offer and Nygma exceeded them all"

- Riddler will be arrested on his own because he wanted to talk to batman, at the start of the comics Gordon come to him saying batman will not come, Riddler will then start to talk about the accident of Barbara (Gordon daughter) with the joker (joker shoot her), saying how can joker know about your security? How can he know where you live? How can he know you will be here? Joker isn't much of a planner, he is a weird guy. Nygma will then continue to talk and with his hands imitate someone picking up a phone

- "Hey Eddie, how's trick? I want to do this whole one bad day THING, but I've got no idea where to start". Well, Jack, how about the commish and his daughter? I have the whole thing staked out, but it was so easy, I got bored with it. I will give it to you for a song. That would be perfect,Eddie and tell you what, i will thrown in a dance for free"

- This action will make Gordon try to attack Nygma because he thought Nygma was behind the attack of his daughter by the joker, Gordon obviously can't attack Nygma without reason, it's recorded

- Riddler plays a bet with a prisoner which is "ask me one thing, if I can answer it you'll kill yourself" he's going to ask him the name of every actress in the gold diggers chorus in 1933 and Nygma will obviously have the answer and it will force the man to kill himself. If he doesn't do it, he know that Riddler would kill him later in any case

- Then he will leave instructions to the police on how to bury the dead prisoner, a 130 page script, one long scene between the gravedigger and him. description by the police man “we’re supposed to chop him into 24 pieces, the numbers of frames per second in a unit film. Then we’re supposed to take a picture of each piece and edit them together to make a one second film. This film is to premiere at Cannes, where it must be the first film shown. When, not if , but when the film wins the palme d’or we are to take all the body parts and the award to grauman’s chinese theatre. Where they are to be reassembled and stuck in the concrete in a position that shows him holding the award. All of Hollywood is to be in attendance, Including his Mother.

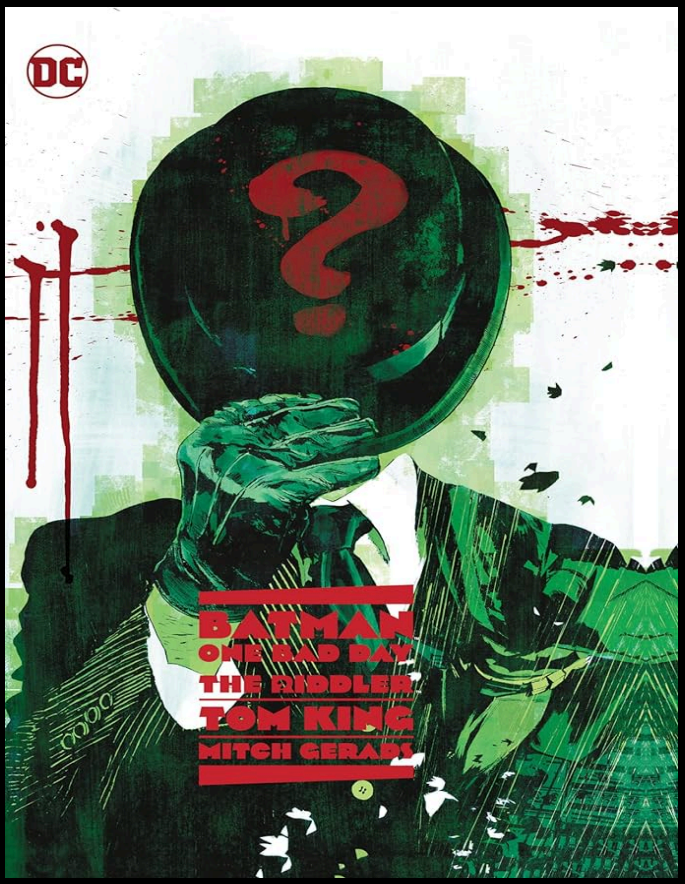

- so all that show the knowledge of Nygma but he wanted to kill the man so that the police interrogate him, he will say “I will say what you want if you make batman come here” They can’t incriminate riddler directly because normally they can’t even hear each other through the wall.

- A guard brings Nygma's food tray, but Nygma instantly pulls on it, blocking the guard's fingers and cutting it off. It will force Gordon to transfer Nygma but that’s what Nygma wanted. Nygma is going to be in a room with a lot of armed men and Gordon, Gordon is going to ask one of the men to put a suit on Nygma that will prevent him from moving but Nygma is going to tell this man, Andrew that before doing what Gordon tells him they should think of their three children, that riddler has escaped dozens of times from arkham and that he's going to do it again. He then goes on to name all the men, saying he knows all their families. Andrew is about to shoot Nygma, but Nygma had anticipated this and was out of position, so the man shoots another man, they ask him to throw down his gun, but he says no and that he must be killed, because they're children and then the carnage begins, with everyone killing each other except Gordon, who is the last survivor. Keep in mind before going to Arkham Riddler could tell some moron to kill the children of these guys if he died, Riddler has too many contacts and he is “always one step ahead”.

- He deduced the identity of Batman and even the day / events of how Batman parents were killed (probably with influence this one, he figured out who was the murder i guess). He deduced the identity of Jason, Nightwing, Tim and Damian, he visited batman at his house stealing a ticket from a pile anticipating that batman would see it, he also anticipated every security load of the house saying it was very predictable.

- Riddler made a murder with no evidence behind him that Batman didn't understand, normally he always leaves evidence but he had to explain the reasons why. His latest scheme involves murdering random civilians if Batman so much as touches him, leading to an unprecedented wave of crime in Gotham. All because he’s “bored of the riddles”. He is bored of always being handicapped against Batman, that’s why he killed this man because Gordon touched him. He wanted to tell Batman that now he will live his life and will let Batman live his life if he doesn't hit him.

Batman earth one TPB 2

- “There was a man who lived on the thirtieth floor of this building. Every morning, he would get in the elevator and press the ground floor to go to work. But when he got home, he would press the twentieth floor, get out and walk up ten flights of stairs to his apartment. Why ?” Answer correctly and the door will open. To summarise, 5 people are in an elevator and you understand what they have to do to survive. They had 30 seconds but failed, the answer was that he wasn’t tall enough to reach the button. The riddler isn’t dumb he know that the police could trace him with the phone line if he used it, that’s why he replaced the whole box with a short range device, the police can’t trace him.

- Now the second accident “It smells like green paint. It pours like purple paint. And it looks like a white van. What is it? Same as before they have 30 seconds to answer it, they will try to leave the museum but the riddler hacked the digital code of the door. The fire alarm will go off but it's not water that will fall on them but gasoline, they will sadly fail. The answer was white paint, it all smells and pours the same, of course. With the smoke of the explosion the sign "?" will appear which allows the investigator to connect to the first incident because Riddler had left clues. scientists will find traces of sewage which will lead Batman to the sewers. Batman will find Riddler hideout but that was planned by Riddler (he left traces of sewage) and so he put explosives that will explode on Batman while Riddler will start a new incident. He rigged the first class car of the Gotham L-train with enough explosives to kill everyone but Riddler will bet with batman, he will give the direction to the train and will tell the riddler to batman, if batman answer correctly everyone is safe, if he fails… BOOM.
“I’m the part of the bats that’s not in the sky. I can swim in a lake in the moonlight and yet remain dry, what am I ? Batman will find the answer: shadows, shadows are the parts of objects that are not in direct sunlight or the part of a bat that is not in the sky. They can appear to "swim" in a lake in the moonlight due to the way light and shadows interact, yet they remain "dry" because they are not physical objects themselves. But Riddler will still blow up the train, Batman has only one clue he found in the hideout of Nygma, it’s a Map of gotham with four words written on it “crane” “drake” “pierce” “black”.

Batman thinks they are names “What if these mass killings aren’t what they look like?”. Cobblepot’s is died and five people took control of his empire, Batman will then ask the list of the victim of the 2 first accident to Gordon and the new one, he will finish by saying he think that Riddler didn’t cared about if Batman answer correctly or inccorectly, he is trying to cover the real murders, he’s killing many to hide one. The last thing he will say to Gordon is to cross reference the list of the victims with the name of the map. Batman thinks that he will match one of them to each attack and that each of those people work for the city.
Batman was right, in all the people murdered, in each accident, one victim each time worked for the city. Each one of the victims had an offshore account that was drained the day they died, drained to a company called... Batman gave Gordon the company name, saying it was owned by the killer and Jim asked his daughter to find who was the owner of it, he found that it was Bruce wayne. This will force Gordon to go to Bruce home and Alfred will start to attack the cops thinking in his head that Bruce shouldn't have trusted Gordon, The cops will arrest alfred. So basically the riddler left a trail from his victim account that pointed to Bruce. Suddenly the prison's electricity will cut and the riddler's voice will appear, saying that he has a new riddle that they must solve in 60 seconds otherwise they will all die. Bruce will take the opportunity to change into Batman while the criminals will take the opportunity to get out of their cells. “There’s a criminal in a cell, wanting to leave but there are no windows in the cell or cracks in the walls. He has no tools and his door to his cells is five inches of solid steel. But he still escapes, How?” Batman will answer knowing it changes nothing, “the door wasn’t locked " simple as that. A carnage will happen in the police station, many will die and Batman will come out of the police station, find two cars one with a lot of explosive and the other is Riddler who leaves the scene with it, Batman will decide to pursue him because he planned to blow it up the whole police station with the explosives, so there would be enough to kill Riddler even if they are not in his truck butBatman's, Batman just needs to follow him which will prevent him from triggering the explosion. Then Riddler will have an accident getting out of his car and will try to explode the truck to die with Batman but Croc will arrive behind him and stop him

Batman death of the family

- He would have found 46 ways to escape from his cell on the first day of confinement, high creativity and his method to escape was “rewiring the door through the hole in the walls I carved six weeks ago”.

- Stated by the joker to be always ten step ahead and that he already figured out that the joker was doing something

Annual 8 of Detective Comics

- He looks for answers to all the questions he doesn't know and can do a puzzle 6 times that would take a normal person 30 minutes or even more to do one time in 1 minute, but he trained to come to this result even if it’s still impressive. Riddler is in love with every type of intellectual game, so it’s not far stretched to assume that Riddler solved the most difficult crossword in the world or visual puzzle as a kid. It will even be backed up in Riddler Year one

The riddler Year one

- Nygma already at his desk does all the work way too fast, he had already finished his work for the month at some point we don't know when but from the boss's reaction I think it was the first week.He Literally test his PSI, he test how many informations he can process by minutes, he said that if people saw what he can do they will be shocked. Sadly we don’t have much information about the feat so it's hard to scale, All we know is that in 1 day he can VERY easily process 1 week's worth of information, but frankly we can go up to at least 5 weeks and it's still a low ball you will see why later, also he was processing maths calc like 18102+12828 and he said what he do will shock people, Nygma doesn’t find impressive what a peak human can do but find impressive his CPI meaning he has at least a peak human. Nygma should also be able to watch full screen at once as there is 13 screen in the photo (maybe 14) WMI Feats

- Since childhood he likes riddles, puzzles and numbers he also answers the riddle "what is always in front of you but that you can't see" the future he answers. Nygma's hobby is riddles, puzzles which shows a good FRI, he is the best on the site. That's why we can assume Riddler solved very difficult Visual puzzles and stuff like that.

- he exhibited high fluid intelligence from the very beginning, always eager to learn and obtain knowledge at every chance he had. Despite being a kid, Edward was capable of brewing chemical products at such a young age, and knew the chemical requirements for them, all this in an attempt to create a glowing jar, so that he would be able to read covered in his bed sheets, whilst everyone is sleeping. The woman was surprised. He tends to read rather than play with his fellow orphan friends, it isn't a stretch at all to even assume that Edward read 24 hours per day. He tends to solve mathematical problems and riddle problems, which of course requires high FRI, and the most shocking part of this is that he always uses his time to crack these varying riddles and mathematical questions.

- he did all the work of a semester in 1 night (UNI Math). 1 semester = 6 month, so now let's do something, as we know one night is less long than a day at work, especially in Nygma case i don't think he will pass one sleepless night to do his UNI maths so i think we can say it took him 5 hours, he did 6 month of UNI maths in 5 hours, 6 month is 26 weeks. That would mean at his work he can process 52 weeks (1 Years) of information in 1 day. Obviously UNI maths and calcs like 7262-2826 aren't the same thing, that's why it's a bit stretched and hard to scale, I will let you do your own opinion.

The batman film

- So firstly i just want to tell that the comics just before, Riddler Year one appear just before this film (in the timeline)

- First murder scene, there's a riddle "what does a liar do when he's dead" Below the question, there was a simple set of characters that were fairly easy to decode using a simple alphabetic substitution cipher. The answer to the riddle "What does a LIAR do when he is DEAD" is "He lies still." As you'll notice in the picture above, several characters repeat themselves (E, I, and S twice, and L three times), making the solution much more easier to find, The pun is a clever double entendre and can be taken to mean that the liar is not only still because he's dead but also that he still lies even in death like the guys who is dead. There's also a cryptogram, Alfred thought it was a partial key, so it had to be done by hand, but Batman thought it was the whole key, so all the symbols would replace a letter, allowing the computer to do it automatically using the letters from the previous answer. Batman was right, the cryptogram is deciphered, it's written "drive", which leads Batman to search The dead guy's car. When he arrives, Batman searches the car for a "flash drive", where he finds a USB key with his thumb attached to it. The USB key leads to files showing the penguin, and at the same time all the files are sent to all the media in Gotham via the address of the commissioner who was with Batman (due to a virus). Nygma explains in a video that he killed the mayor because he was lying to Gotham and in the video he says he's going to kill someone else. He finds himself at another crime scene with a box inside a labyrinth with a cryptogram on it, and he also finds a letter to Batman that reads "follow the labyrinth until you find the rat in the light you will lead him here you will find me". Batman learns who the rat is from Catwoman, he was an informant who tipped off the police about Salvatore Maroni, allowing them to get him out of traffic, if Nygma knows about this he could blow up the city. On the same night that Batman learns this information, the person who gave it to Catwoman is kidnapped by Nygma and he puts a bomb on him. A day later, Bruce arrives at the church for a tribute to the mayor and a car crashes into the church, the man Nygma kidnapped gets out with a bomb, and he pulls out a telephone that will be used to communicate with The Riddler. Riddler asks 3 riddles in 2 minutes.

- First riddle: "It may be cruel, blind or unfinished, but when people are deprived, it's violence you see that rises" - the answer is justice. The Riddle mentions three possible descriptions: "cruel," "blind," and "unfinished." These terms can be associated with a lack of fairness, impartiality, or completeness in a system. The Riddle also mentions that when people are deprived, "violence" is what "rises." This suggests that when people are denied their rights, opportunities, or fair treatment, they may resort to violent means to seek redress or express their grievances

- Second riddle "you are justice and do not lie please what is the price to pay for your averted gaze" answer the bribe, how much the person who has the bomb touched to let them do" Basically Riddler kill people who do the “Justice” but in truth they don't really do it, so he asks how much he was paid to do nothing about it

- "Last riddle can your justice is so selective tell us what vermin you protect so lucratively" the answer is the "Rat"

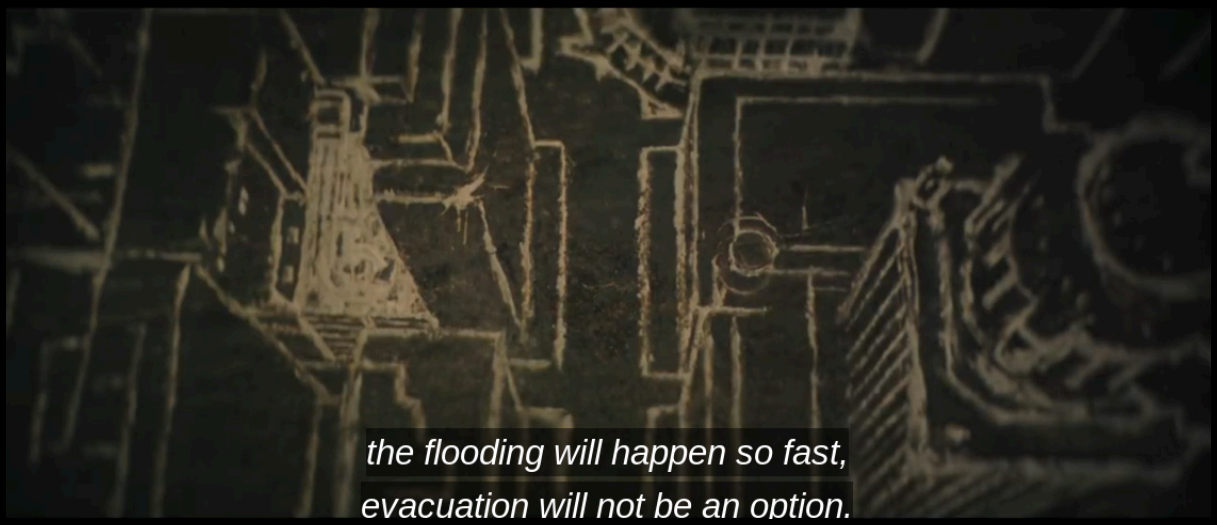

- In the end, the guy will explode and Batman will be knocked out by the explosion, he'll be taken to the police station to wake up and leave, then with Gordon they'll go and try to question the penguin because his club is an underworld place and Maroni was often there, the penguin probably witnessed a lot of stuff, he would have been so wet that his only solution was to leak information to the police.

- In the cryptogram of the labyrinth, Riddler has put a riddle "où est El rata alada" or in english Winged rat which refers to carrier pigeon and he thinks that this rat is the penguin so they're going to come and question.When they arrive, they'll start the discussion and Penguin will say that we don't say "El rata alada" but la rata alada. Then Batman will think and say where (where = où in french which makes sense in french but not in english) it's U in Spanish, "est" has a bit of an "R" sound and then "El" for L, URL. Batman opens his PC, puts in URL Ratalada and comes across a conversation with Riddler (Riddler had found the secret message + the fact that Batman was going to see Penguin). In the conversation he talks about being an orphan, batman makes the connection with the wayne orphanage where batman goes, he comes across a video of Bruce's father talking about the orphanage, on the walls are written "the sins of the father" and batman with the video makes the direct connection that the sins of the Father will fall on the son again, already before that the wayne mansion had exploded, Riddler had sent a package with C4 and he also killed Alfred. So we could think this step was not necessary in the Riddler plan but in fact if Bruce Wayne the guys who is always his in the Wayne towers survive the explosion then it probably means he is Batman because Batman is in the orphanage. A day later a video appears in which Nygma reveals all the corruption of the Waynes, he did all this because Thomas Wayne left nothing but sin and murder in Gotham. Batman will find a note in which is written " see you in hell" meaning Riddler wanted to kill Bruce wayne.

- A policeman had one of Celina's friends dead in his car, prompting Celina to "torture the policeman". When Batman arrives, he learns that it was Falcone who killed this friend, prompting Celina to kill him, but also that at a previous crime scene, Riddler had said "Relance is a lie" when Thomas Wayne died, everyone pounced on it. Except that Falcone wanted more, so he staged a plan to bring down Maroni, he leaked his traffic. Then he launched the careers of all those who helped bring him down, Falcone has been Gotham's mayor for 20 years, leading Batman to conclude that Falcone is the rat. He then arrests Falcone and brings him to the light of justice, as he had requested. Falcone was standing next to a lamppost, we see Penguin arrive and mock Falcone, he pulls out a gun and Falcone is shot by not Penguin but some guy at a window, The arrestion of Falcone was obviously Planned by Nygma, he forced batman to arrest him and he knew where falcone will be arrested obviously. Riddler had just said "bring him in front of the lamppost and you'll find me", then Batman searches the apartment where the shot came from, finding nothing, but someone says they've seen a man leave by the fire escape and now he's still in a café, at which point Riddler gets arrested, but it was all planned. When he gets arrested at the café, in his coffee he creates with his spoon his famous "?" sign, which may imply a mastery of fluid mechanics + VSI (I may be going far). Afterwards, they lock up his apartment and we learn that The Riddler has apparently deduced Batman's identity but we can't be sure, in his notes he writes that he deduced the events with a"relance", so he deduced everything from himself, something Batman did just before but with much more information. The commissioner receives a call that Riddler wants to see Batman, he arrives and we learn that Riddler knows that Batman is Bruce Wayne, he says i told you i'd see you in hell referring to the note in the fireproof bag attached to the explosive he sent to the wayne manor. Now Riddler monologue in his head “if only you know how long i was waiting for this day, for this first moment. I’ve been invisible my whole life. I guess I won't be anymore, will I? They will remember me now, they will remember both of us. So now riddler hates bruce wayne because as an orphan he had a great life while riddler had a rotten life that's why riddler will say "bruce wayne" because no he didn't deduce it was batman, it doesn't make sense because he wanted to kill him when he killed alfred. When he says Both of us he is talking about him and Bruce Wayne, the two Orphan. But we can make a interpretation that i find very logical, Nygma at first didn’t know Batman was Bruce but when he lured Batman away the Waynes towers to the orphanage he could make him confront Wayne family dark secrets and confirm if Bruce doesn’t died in the explosion that he is probably Batman, he could be sure he will see the note after the blast in Wayne towers and continue to join him in his mission after he saw Waynes dark secrets, now that Nygma know this truth he could have some advantage over him. In Arkham he intentionally used vague grammar to scare Batman thinking he knew his identity then at the right moment he said "Bruce wayne, Bruce wayne. He’s the only one we didn’t get. But we got the rest of them didn’t we?” meaning him and BATMAN (not bruce) killed the people that make the chaos in gotham except BRUCE WAYNE who is doing nothing to help gotham and then he played dumb so that he could try to appeal batman fractured identity and make him feel super guilty for his privileged spoiled past and to let go of that past to embrace his new identity of the mask monster and join Nygma in his purge of the city. Nygma showed high acting skills here because he played dumb as it was finished for him, acting like his plan failed, he started screaming “NOOOOOOOO AHHHHHHHH”. Nygma needed something to threaten batman which was is identity, he could share it to anyone and it’s maybe why the first moment batman entered Nygma room and he saw all the thing on the wall it’s was wrote bruce wayne and other thing, Batman thought he was going to reveal his identity. 2 two which could strengthen is the fact that in the funeral scene, Bruce is the only person that notices Nygma on the balcony and Nygma saw him staring in fear, he also immediately saves the kids, not something a billionaire recluse would immediately do and he in the video where he show that the Wayne are corrupted the word, Nygma could also have planned this event to see how fast batman will come and as we know in the film Batman appear after some minutes, which make bruce wayne very suspect. The word “Hush” appears in the video of Nygma in which he shows why the Wayne are corrupted , in this comic Nygma deduced that Batman was Bruce wayne. Also, if Bruce wasn't Batman then Nygma would have killed him and it was intended to make Batman join his side, he wanted to show him that even the purest people in Gotham are corrupt. After that, Riddler says he's locked himself up in the same prison, Batman returns to The Riddler's apartment and removes the floor. After removing it, we see a map of Gotham which was drawn by himself (VSI) with "a real change" inside, which is the password to a video of The Riddler talking about explosives and the elections.

In fact, the explosives are going to explode that day before Batman can do anything about it: "BOOM" because of the explosions, water will flood Gotham, the cries of joy at the elections will turn to cries of terror, everything was in front of Batman but he didn't see it. At the same time, attacks on the elections will take place, orchestrated by people from the Riddler cult he created on the Internet (around 500 people). In the end, he destroyed Gotham and that's why he wanted to be in arkham because the explosion flooded gotham

Batman detective comics #idk

- Someone falls overboard on a cruise ship and is eaten by sharks.

- Riddler is interviewed and pretends to know almost nothing about the murder and that it was a simple murder.

- Batman analyses the murder, the wound along the shoulders and at the base of the blow, one of the sharks hits him full force, shattering vertebrae and killing him instantly. The size of the teeth is different to that of the other bites, the spines resemble those of a porcupine fish, but no sub-species is known on this coast. Furthermore, most of the sharks that bite in this area are hammerheads or blues, but these bites were made by a Mako, which is not common in Gotham, so it's an unknown creator with an unusual way of defending itself.

- the wound on his back was too straight and made by prowa shark teeth. When his body hit the water his blood attracted other sharks, if he'd had more time their bites would have covered the original marks as the killer wanted. There were also spines that he pulled out of his hand, he confirmed his suspicions by looking at the yacht's CCTV. There was a warrior from the island of Kiribati, the heavy coconut serves as armour while these helmets made from dried spiced pork protect their heads. So the person struggled with the killer and his hands pulled a few thorns from the helmet

- Now Riddler's reasoning he also had the same reasoning as batman on the shark's bite and to most probably them the rest of batman's reasoning, after he is deduced that there was a soldier from Kiribati island knowing that he had knowledge on their method make the hypothesis that the thorns on the body was the one of the warrior that he had to pull out their from the fight that Riddler is going to deduce right after in another way is a formality for him

- At the crime scene, Riddler found a piece of paper that he analysed and found to be 80 years old, the ink on the card coming from an equally old machine. The angle of the tear told him that it had been torn off during a fight, and the slight rust around the staple holes indicated that the card had been attached to something for a long time, perhaps a museum piece.

- A few moments later he remembers that today's Kiribati island was once called the Gilbert Islands and that their warriors beheaded their enemies with shark-toothed swords.

- Riddler must also have understood that the killer wanted to hide the wounds with the shark like Batman.

- artefact restorer Simon Brooks made the forgeries that the dead guy then replaced in the museum vault, in fact he was the guy in the armour and the assassin.

- Nygma had originally been invited onto the boat to prove that the murder was accidental, but Nygma soon realised that it wasn't, based on a piece of paper and an analysis of the body.

Batman year zero

- Statement in Batman year zero comics
- At the beginning we see him with Philip in an office with a lot of wire hanging on the plan, the walls and he says to him no do not touch (a wire) the algorithm is spatial if you touch a wire everything is disturbed
- Managed to build a pulley system to hold a huge rock with just a wire
- he is as always one step ahead

- Nygma for his new Gotham will propose a non-arithmetic calendar with variable logic 🗿(what is that) he will show advanced Knowledge like that quite a few times in the comics

RED HOOD GANG PART

- As we know, Nygma had taken control of Wayne Enterprises by becoming Phillip's strategic advisor. Nygma's objective was to increase his influence, to do this he took the lead of the red hood gang, he used the weapons of Wayne's enterprises to improve the power of his gang and then he started to attack non-citizens to increase the size of his gang, politicians. Anyone from Gotham could be in it, when Batman came back Nygma started attacking other gangs to expand his gang once again, he started doing this because Batman had finally come back so he could put his plan in place.

- Nygma had boosted Gotham's first company on the market to get more weapons to use for the gang, of course no one could suspect that Nygma was behind the gang he left no information and no one had any information on how the weapons got to the gang, the only existing theory was that they stole them on their own. When Batman first meets Nygma he says that Phillip gave the guns to the red hood gang because they were afraid they'd come for the bigger guns, so by giving them the smaller ones they were already satisfied.

- How could Nygma deduce that Bruce was Batman? Batman had disappeared from the city for a long time, as had Bruce Wayne. Bruce didn't want people to know he was back but when Nygma saw him at a party he must have understood straight away, Bruce wanted to be safe from the gang, if they knew h he was back it would have put a spanner in the works for him as he has responsibilities in the city, in this point of view everything fits together as to why he's doing this and that he's Batman. What's more, Bruce has a good body, he's rich and has all the resources, so that's how Nygma came to the conclusion.

- When they meet, Bruce is going to ask him if he's the one who created the party, basically Phillip called Bruce to talk to him but in fact he revealed to the people at Wayne's enterprises that Bruce had come back. Riddler is going to say that he didn't tell Phillip to do anything, so it was Phillip's doing, he wanted

Bruce to come back into Wayne's Enterprises so that he could take over, deal with the gang and do something about Nygma being a suspect. So basically there are 2 scenarios, one where Nygma knew about the meeting beforehand and I'm going to develop that one because it's 90% more likely given the conversation between Bruce and riddler and the action that comes just afterwards

- Phillip must have told Nygma that he wanted Bruce to come, so Nygma deduced from that what I said before that he wanted to stay hidden if he didn't show up and that he was Batman, so by doing that basically Phillip would be helping Nygma because he would be handicapping Bruce but Nygma would go further and take advantage of the situation.

- when Bruce leaves he says something that Nygma hears even though he was more than 10 metres away (Auditory Perception)

- Bruce takes a taxi home and contacts Alfred saying the situation is worse than he thought, arriving at the house there was a welcome home decoration and just after that an explosion. Nygma had predicted Batman's move, planted an explosive and sent in the red hood gang. Which pretty much killed him, Nygma could have predicted that from the fact that Bruce hadn't been there since he'd arrived in the city, he'd probably want to be nostalgic after Phillip betrayed him so to speak, so just being nostalgic seeing his "parents" again was the best time to do it as he'd moved close.

- Nygma did this to weaken Bruce, he didn't mean to kill him but he told Phillip that he killed him to make him angry and that because of their fight Nygma could find the excuse of "it's over between us" he used Phillip's system against himself, a system that attracts metal to the ground and Phillip had done an operation that put a metal thing in his head.

- The red hood gang, the largest part of the group will start stealing chemical elements while the smallest will steal totally random things, they have something in mind and try to hide their thefts with other random thefts.

- Bruce makes a speech to Gotham saying that he's come back to fight with his city, that the red hood gang are terrorising the city and that he's going to stop them. He says that their plan is to create a chemical weapon that they will detonate in several places in the city. He's going to have an explosion planned by Bruce that will allow him to leave. He goes to the warehouse where he is creating the bombs but gets caught by the red hood gang. Bruce had predicted the date of their plan, which would be his parents' birthday given their first confrontation and conversation at home about his parents, especially as the events were also very close.

- Alfred will make turn off the lights, as Bruce wanted then it will as if batman arrived at that moment but it is him obviously, it will start to chaos of the members of the gang, it will have several explosion then Alfred will hack the glasses of the gang which come from the technology wayne company to put an image of Bruce wayne in distress on their glasses what will allow Batman to put them chaos.

- The police arrive and all that Batman has done here is going to hurt him because now he's also an enemy of the police, there's been a lot of gang death, material damage, etc...

- in truth all this was planned by Nygma. Let me explain, Nygma after that will take control of the electricity of Gotham to put his plan in place with the typhoon, he needed a lot of resources and that's why he used the red hood gang. The production of chemical weapons was not the objective of Nygma, he had created this plan in order that Batman could counter it. He deliberately disguised the plan in a crude way so that he could deduce it and attacked him beforehand so that he could deduce the exact date as already explained.

- By doing this, he knew that Batman would understand their plan, predict the place, the time and with the fact that the red hood gang had wayne's company technology he could use it against them, moreover the place where he was there was a lot of explosive stuff even if Batman died that his failed plan even if it was unlikely Nygma could still have implemented his plan

- because yes Nygma is pulling the strings behind the gang but he probably didn't create it, he used it but he had to destroy it to be able to implement his plan. The plan he had put in place was in fact a plan created by Nygma obviously but which was to lead to their destruction.

Mind game batman year zero

- The Riddler became Philip's adviser and raised his enterprise to the top (he's Batman's uncle). So he managed to manipulate the red hood gang through phillip who sold them weapons, he sent them to batman for the franchise and he was almost dead, at that time philip wanted to kill him but he will say the word "Cain " which is a password activating a magnetic field that pulls him to the ground because he has something metallic in his skull from an operation. Batman has just won the battle against the red hood gang, Riddler will appear on the giant screen of Gotham saying a riddle "here are two sisters, each gives birth to the other. Who are they? One of the two sisters say I am the day and the others say I am the night and the BOOM explosion, moreover Nygma triggers a Black-out by causing calculated overvoltages in one of the crossroads of the underground electrical networks of the city but why now? A hurricane is coming to Gotham. The riddler has posed a riddle to the city and cut off the power in the city. a former researcher for wayne labs is going to attack the new researcher from wayne laboratories, Bruce is going to analyze the fingerprints and he finds traces of a serum created precisely by this guy years ago which normally kills you if you inject it into you and change you completely. He will go to see Lucius Fox but Helfern will arrive, Lucius will prick Batman with a vaccine and they will fight against Helfern, in the end Gordon will arrive and save them. Batman goes to the laboratory where the former colleagues of Helfern are, they are in a center which consists in creating a climatic weapon. Batman arrives and goes to see a worker and in fact he is infected with the same virus as Helfern, they all are, Helfern had already been there, at the same time

- the police come and see batman, so they think he did this to them, in fact Nygma had sent a letter to the commissioner saying that he was allied with batman but got tired of him, the letter predicted everything Batman's movements, all his techniques with that the police were able to try to stop batman but failed despite the fact that they injured him. He was able to predict Batman moves because he probably studied him. Batman will analyze Helfern's DNA samples but they are far too corrupt (Nygma is behind Helfern he is manipulating him. After these events Batman will then deduce Helfern's hideout, the catacombs during blackouts visits are prohibited, Helfern's DNA traces were too corrupt to be identified but from multiple sources and this type of corruption is due to a long exposure to the open air. As for the presence of phosphate and calcium, it is bone dust, this type of mixture remains common, the catacombs were built in the 18th century to protect gotham from diseases, it was so popular at one time that we could only store the skulls in other words this whole place is based on the idea that the memory of the disappeared can be preserved through their only bone, this makes an ideal place poetically speaking to shelter the lab of Helfern (all this reasoning applies to Nygma as he left all this proof for Batman). Arrived on the scene he will realize that he had just underestimated The Riddler, The death of Helfern's colleagues was just a diversion in fact he stole the material from his victims in order to build a doomsday machine to take control of Gotham and of course the person manipulating Helfern is Nygma. After Batman has deduced all this thanks to the plan that Nygma had left there, a TV lights up (he had therefore predicted the arrival of batman and anticipated his Deduction on his plan + the hideout, he had placed an explosive system which will of course explode on Batman.

- On the plan there was a half circle extended by a line and a tower located at the location of the points, it is Nygma's location but it's not over Batman adds that in fact if he re-activates the current it's game over for them Nygma will have absolute control of gotham, obviously batman understands it too late because he already only stays a few minutes before he re-activates it (Batman's deduction seeing the plan left by Nygma). Nygma stole a remote hacking rig that allows him to control anything but the distance is only 30 meters so he also has a hyper amplifier to boost any signal and act as a backup relay in case of a blackout and also a weather balloon like that at altitude he will have the whole city in his line of sight combined with his knowledge of the works of Paji and isley... Batman sends Gordon to the tower, anticipated by Nygma who will drop a rock which was holding with a pulley system that will allow him to flee and block Gordon a little. He had predicted that Batman was going to try to put a jammer on the weather balloon to block his signal and so had placed Helfern to stop him. Explanations of how Nygma Manipulated Helfern, he had been fired from wayne companies, Nygma helped him to continue his research by financing him in secret, he told him "your work, doctor is a work of life, of healing" and the that jumped out at her, he thought of proteins that stimulate healing, he thought of cautery that accelerates healing, all thanks to Nygma, he gave her faith and by plunging gotham into the night, he pushes her to death. To concretize by acts, to find in him the courage to become his own patient (fired because the patient was dead). batman's jammer will fall in the water like his plan

- When the electricians restored the current the symbol of Nygma appeared but the light did not come back, just after Nygma presses a button which will trigger a huge tidal wave, Nygma has taken control of the whole city so no way to restore the current, cables and balloons of a flying machine were detached and it exploded, another blow of Nygma (he had also hacked the machine and in the end I believe he did that for all the machines of the cities). Here we are, the state of the city is chaos, fire, the city flooded, full of death, flying machines falling from the sky all of this was done by Nygma alone. Batman will therefore wake up in a new Gotham, With nature plan on the buildings because of the floods, a tower with the symbol of Nygma. Nygma protects the whole city, no one enters, no one leaves, he has mined the bridges and invested the sky by placing deadly gas weather balloons there, impossible to telephone because he controls all the lines. Batman says that his Plan is totally beyond him and that in terms of manpower he probably manipulated the red Hood gang who are present during the first part of the comics and he emptied the drawers of power industries taking the place of the top 1 strategist of the time (recommended by philip). He took advantage of the floods to disseminate doctor isley's miraculous fertilizers and thus transform the streets into a jungle and he has control of the eclectic networks of the entire city. Every night he appears on the screen where there is his symbol, anyone can tell him a riddle if he can't solve it he gives them back Gotham. Bob chef Ex-strategist N°1 of power industries offers him a riddle, The riddle is the following "two turtles each want to cross a river each on their side but" Nygma: "They are blind" and yes before he finishes Nygma had deduced the answer how?

- In view of his pronounced taste for sonic weapons and his collection of inaudible free Jazz that he had forgotten in his office, one could expect an enigma on hearing or its absence and since turtles have no ears he deduced that the fall would invoke a second handicap. Gordon, Batman and Fox go to try to stop him while Batman tries to buy as much time as possible with Nygma, Fox locates him while Gordon intervenes with other men. They located him and they went there except that Nygma had anticipated that he would do this as a plan and had placed explosives that would sink the whole city + obviously it's not his hideout. As soon as Batman understands this, Nygma cuts off his connection with Fox, further proof that he has anticipated everything. Nygma had a insight about Batman plan, they had to locate him but Nygma must not know they are doing it, they were few possibilities of plan that's how he anticipated it.He will then destroy Fox's jammer, Batman will finally find where Nygma is as he had planned so it was at the museum where Nygma will once again trap Batman in a circle with lots of lasers preventing him from moving. Now twelve puzzles that Batman must solve to save Gotham if Batman succeeds in a puzzle a laser goes off if he misses since the laser is connected to the control of a weather balloon... first riddler " i am a house without the head of head knitted deep within the trees. A head that lies without its eyes stitched silently to tease" batman will find the good answer who is "a louse." The head of head," suggests the first letter of the word, meaning: "H." And "lies without its eyes..." lies without eyes leaves you with "L." "L" and "ouse" equal "louse ." "Knitted" is a synonym for "nitted." "Nits" being louse eggs. And calypso was a nymph. Lice emerge from eggs as nymphs, fully formed. Second riddler: "I have a single voice, a thousand throats, i sell my tall for pernuts but then". I am bee bees buzz with one voice, one mind. A comb is made up of cells, the queen's is shaped like a pernut.

- He'll miss the 3rd one, which was "I'm glad I'm fluent, I always come full circle. I'm born from an embrace, even when I'm being shot at. says he's wrong etc. Batman goes forward and Nygma goes to tell the robots to shoot him but nothing Batman goes to hit Nygma (he moved forward because he had noticed that the lasers were no longer following his movements). it's not over Batman is going to ask him How to restore the current, Nygma is going to make an electrode on him which sends a modulated current to all his servers in the next room it's a battery synchronised with his own heartbeat, if Batman removes it, the whole system breaks down apart from the anti-Communication net and so Gotham would fall into total darkness.To restart the system, you would have to restart the system with a load of a thousand volts, so almost impossible to survive. End of the strategy Nygma will say that what he has done to the city is the fruit of a plan with innumerable ramifications, a lot of variables for each move. Batman will do it and obviously survive, Carried by the plot

BATMAN HUSH

- At the beginning of the comics, Batman rescues a child who is being held by several men whom he knocks out. When he escapes with the child killer croc arrives, in fact this child had been kidnapped to ask for a ransom because he belongs to a rich family. Killer Croc kidnapped the child and everyone wanted to pay the date, the family, the FBI and the police except Batman who rescued the child while Croc took the money. The problem is that Croc had to make an exchange, except that if he doesn't have the boy then he can't do it or he wanted to kill the child, which would be more his style, especially as he's stupid, so seeing Batman leave with the child obviously means that he's going to chase him even though he gains nothing. Croc isn't as smart at kidnapping and ransoming, Batman thinks there's someone behind it, and during his fight against Croc, someone manages to steal the money without anyone seeing him. This person is revealed to be catwoman just after, who will bring the money to Poison Ivy (batman noticed that it was catwoman and tried to chase her but failed).

- After that huntress comes in to protect Batman who had fallen off a roof and passed out, she leaves with him and we see Hush watching her. Just after Ivy gives the money to someone we can't see but who is probably Hush from the gloves and jacket.

- So Hush manipulated Croc into kidnapping a kid for ransom, knowing Batman would come for him. There would be a fight between him and Croc, which would allow Catwoman, who was under Ivy's control, to steal the money so that Ivy would do 50/50 with Hush for the money, even if there hadn't been a fight, Catwoman could easily have stolen the money from him.

- Croc is about to be transferred from Arkham to another prison, Batman is in his car and there is an explosion, he tells Oracle to keep the signal on croc. Croc goes up to a building where Ivy told him to go if he wanted to find his money, he goes there and finds Catwoman who explains to him that Ivy was supposed to meet him here but she isn't, he used her to steal his money and it's Ivy who has it, so Catwoman has nothing.

- Batman arrives, he knocks out Croc who was going to kill Ivy. He says that someone is playing with them, even playing with Ivy, and that he must be found. The FBI will arrive to subdue Croc, who had lost just before, so Croc will think that Batman was behind it. Hush appears in the background once again, meaning that it's all him.

- Catwoman hears that Ivy is in Metropolis, so she and Batman go there. Catwoman finds her and pretends she's come because she's under her spell, but Ivy realises she's lying and overpowers her. Batman arrives and saves Catwoman but Superman arrives, under Ivy's control. They flee into a tunnel that leads to the Lex corps. Batman prepares to beat him with kryptonite and Superman arrives, taking a blow from Batman with the kryptonite.He'll manage to play with the environment and hold it back, he'll surface a few seconds after Superman arrives but Catwoman has taken Lois to a roof and thrown her off, this forces Superman to save her which will make Superman regain his senses.

- Batman tells Clark what happened, that someone is behind Ivy because it will take someone smart to provide Ivy with the resources to manipulate Superman.

- Once again Hush appears watching them, he's behind it all.

- it's stated that Ivy and Croc didn't say anything to Batman as if someone had told them not to or that he was being manipulated.

- Bruce, Tommy and Catwoman goes to an opera with, the show starts but Harley Queen appears in batman's thoughts it is said that according to his sources Harley quinn work with ivy in metropolis but since she was arrested and brought back to Gotham so he anticipated that she would come here, probably she would try to appear in an event like that. Except that it was unexpected but lots of other men are going to appear with guns and start shooting everywhere, normally Harley never does anything that big...

- batman will appear, Harley will say that batman only knows how to stick to the script which batman translates into someone is behind it, again. Batman will lose at first then Catwoman will arrive and take control of the situation until she gets shot which will allow Harley to flee. Tommy chases her because she stole something from him, Batman chases him out of the opera and finds him shot through the heart by the JOKER. This sends him into a rage and he starts hitting the Joker while the Joker says he's innocent but all he wants to do is kill him, Harley arrives but batman destroys her, catwoman arrives but batman uses the fact that she took a bullet, he keeps hitting the Joker until Gordon arrives and stops him, he was this close to killing the Joker.

- Hush appears, saying that the Joker is innocent.

- Riddler has stolen an 11 million dollar van, Nightwing and Batman are going to stop him. What Riddler has just done is typical of him compared to what the others have done since the beginning of the comics, he's going to wonder why the person behind it isn't using it, he's going to use ultraviolet vision and see ash substances, it's coming from Lazarus pit.

- hush goes to the joker to free him, saying that they had met before and that the joker had beaten him in front of his wife years before that. Joker will say that his two faces and that he has had a lot of surgery.

- Batman will kidnap ras al gul's daughter Talia so that they can come and probably talk about the lazarus pit

- Two face (hush) will go to Gordon in two face and tell him that if the cops find the gun that killed Tommy (batman's friend) and do some analysis on it, they'll trace it back to GORDON, it's his gun.

- Batman beats Ras, telling him that someone has used one of the lazarus pits and that in fact his problem is also his own. On the side of catwoman who keeps Talia, Shiva arrived to save her and destroyed catwoman. Talia takes the opportunity to free herself and Chaos Shiva from behind.

- Batman reveals his identity to Catwoman and takes her to the batcave. She leaves on her motorbike and runs into Huntress or rather Huntress was looking for her, she tells him that the money he took at the beginning was clean otherwise he wouldn't have taken it, in fact Catwoman and Huntress worked together at the beginning, Catwoman stole the money and Huntress took care of Batman. Then she's going to say that everything was fine until someone was murdered, probably Tommy. Then she'll say that she saved Batman at first but that her arrival in the alley was too big of a coincidence and that he was going to deduce that she was in cahoots with Catwoman. A fight breaks out between the two, Batman arrives, he's figured out what's going on, he gives Catwoman something to calm Huntress down, who was actually under the influence of the Scarecrow's toxin. Hush appears, he knocks out Tim Drake, the Scarecrow appears and Batman says in his thoughts that he has probably been involved all along with the manipulation thanks to the toxin.

- Batman overcomes the scarecrow, Catwoman overcomes huntress and the hush appears, in fact it's red hood.

- he threatens tim drake with a knife, a fight begins between the two men which red hood dominates. In his thoughts Batman thinks that someone has reanimated Jason with Ras's lazarus pit. Except batman doesn't think it's red hood, he thinks the real enemy just wants to destabilise batman with red hood, plus he was never that strong. If it was perfectly organised normally red hood should have called Batman Bruce, if it was red hood too but he didn't. Batman will finally master Red Hood and we'll see that it was actually clay face which is why Red Hood was an adult, because he couldn't have known his teenage voice or his fighting style but the fact that he would have grown up changes everything.

- Oracle goes to look at the electronic relay under Batman's PC, she thought it was a standard listening device but in fact it was made on purpose to look like this, the design was perfect. She ran the software on the PC and it did something...

- Batman is going to meet someone, Harold, someone who works for him. He takes care of the electronic part, Harold starts to cry saying that he thought Batman would forgive him because the person had promised to help him with his body, he knew who he was under the mask, he knew about the cellar, his job. All he'd asked was to put a relay circuit in the computer and when Batman went to ask him who it was, he got shot in the head.

- hush appears again and a fight begins, batman understands that Hush is TOMMY. He's angry at Bruce because as a child Bruce had promised him that his father would save Tommy's father from an accident, that's what he thought but the truth is no, he was angry because Bruce's father saved his mother, he had to wait years before she died of cancer.

- Hush gets the upper hand but Gordon arrives with Two Face, in fact at the end of their conversation Two Face had told Gordon that he had to save Batman which means that he was aware of Hush's plan, so a collaboration. Tommy had done an operation on Two Face in Philadelphia 1 or even 2 years ago.

- Batman goes to see Riddler and we actually learn that Riddler is behind absolutely everything, now let me explain everything from A to Z.

- So Riddler had a brain tumor, at first he contacted Tommy but the cure was extremely expensive so the only way to survive was to use the lazarus pit which he used. Then he came back to Gotham and Tommy approached him because his mother had died from the same thing that Riddler had survived, Riddler also found out about Tommy's hatred for Batman so seeing as he wanted to show up the villain of the town that he was he decided to create Hush.

- Riddler then approached Croc about a cure for his illness saying that he needed a certain amount of money to pay for it, after which he most likely gave him the idea of kidnapping for ransom. Croc kidnaps the boy and so Riddler knew that everyone would pay the ransom because it's croc who kidnapped the boy, and at that moment Riddler knows that even if it doesn't change anything for croc he's still going to chase batman because he's stupid, even if croc hadn't chased batman catwoman wouldn't have had any trouble stealing the money from him. So Catwoman steals from him, Riddler knew that Batman would notice and he's going to chase her but while he's chasing her his rope breaks, he gets a fractured skull and Huntress arrives to save him, Huntress teaming up with Catwoman. Riddler has to save Batman because his plan doesn't stop there, but above all so that Batman wants to be operated on by Tommy, the best surgeon in the world and his childhood friend, who takes advantage of the situation to slip him a tracer.

- Catwoman, who was manipulated by Ivy, will give her the money and Ivy will give half to Hush, who is "manipulated" by Riddler. At the end they work together, Ivy wanted money and Catwoman to love her, which is why she accepted, Huntress accepted because Tommy give her money for her equipements

- 1 days later, Ivy tells Catwoman to meet her on a rooftop but in fact Ivy told Croc to go, so this will create a fight between the two knowing that Riddler knew that batman had a signal on croc will blow up his car which will slow down batman and leave time for croc to be able to kill Catwoman. If Croc had killed Catwoman which was a scenario that was good for Riddler then maybe batman would have locked him up in my point of view in , Riddler has the advantage because if Catwoman dies batman will be pissed off, if Croc died in this accident because of FBI or batman it's all good for Riddler no more problem, if he survives he wouldn't be able to deduce that it was him in any case and if Catwoman stays alive nothing serious, batman with that will also learn that Ivy is also involved in the story. Also remember the FBI arrived at the end to stop Croc, in fact Riddler obviously knew this because it was the FBI who transferred croc and he created this situation so it makes Croc think batman was behind this, with that Croc will not speak if batman ask him something.

- Batman and Catwoman go to Metropolis, Tommy comes along to keep an eye on Batman as he has his position permanently. Batman will find Ivy, but how could Ivy have manipulated Superman? My hypothesis is that Riddler made a pact with Lex, which I'll explain in more detail later, and that's how he got the "synthetic Green K" that allowed Ivy to use Superman.

- Now Riddler wanted Ivy to lose for his next plan with Harley, he knew that batman knew the place to flee to lexCorp and that he had kryptonite thanks to lex who would have told him, So he was able to deduce that batman could slow superman down knowing that superman couldn't kill batman (it's his nature basically so batman would never have lost) contrary to what Ivy may have thought, which would give Catwoman time to look for lois and throw her off the roof so that superman could come to his senses.

- With this, Riddler gets rid of Ivy, could have created a conflict between Batman and Superman over the fact that he could have killed Lois Lane, allows Batman to go and see Talia to ask her about if she knew if someone had a massive amount of ethylene that is created by lexcorps, it must be dangerous and Nygma must have be the guys who had a massive amount of ethylene to manipulate Batman to go to see Talia which would be useful later and allows him to set up his next plan.

- Tommy, Catwoman, Bruce go to an opera. So firstly i will debunk what i said before, batman didn't anticipated this because as i even said, this type of crimes are unusual for harley.

- Tommy probably convinced Bruce to go but in a way he doesn't suspect, perhaps because the opera had some connection with Bruce's parents or because Tommy saved him, as he says in Metropolis he wants to look after him anyway. Harley appears and wants to rob the opera house, Riddler gets her in on the operation via the Joker, which I'll explain later. Harley is then overpowered by Batman but shoots Catwoman, forcing Batman to go and protect her. Tommy follows Harley under the pretext that he has stolen something from her. Batman then leaves the opera following him and finds him dead with the Joker holding a gun. So in fact as we know Jason is involved in the story and when Riddler told him that, it was enough for him to accept that in the plan Batman has a chance to kill the Joker what Joker wants, Harley was involved thanks to the Joker obviously.

- So in the scene Joker says he's innocent to Batman who thinks back to all the crimes the Joker has committed and has just committed, he starts to beat him to death but the Joker continues to say he's innocent, because it's true that the person who killed Tommy was Two Face with Gordon's gun, in truth the dead person isn't Tommy but Clay Face who isn't dead but is pretending to be Tommy. So here, Riddler indirectly manipulated Batman into killing the Joker, which would have ruined everything Batman had done, but Gordon prevented it, and he also made Batman believe that Tommy was dead for good. Riddler's plan here failed because Two Face told Gordon to go into the alley. But did it really failed? Tommy is still dead and we know that Nygma wanted to prove to everyone that he was superior, he said to the joker that Batman would kill him but he didn't... Yea Joker was used by Riddler and he outsmarted him

- Two Face had agreed to be part of the plan in exchange for a surgical operation, there is a world where Riddler had predicted that two faces will go against him but it is very complicated to prove I will develop anyway. After the surgery Riddler would have guessed that Two Face would turn nice again because he was no longer Two Face (it was literally two face reason), so he would have carried out the plan but would have called Gordon to prevent Batman from killing, this doesn't change anything in Riddler's plan except that Batman doesn't kill the Joker but that's not so bad because Riddler only wanted to be recognised, at least we can say that Riddler probably deduced that it was Harvey (Two Face) who warned Gordon and that's how he knew that Batman was there, He would have deduced it afterwards of course but didn't do anything because his plan didn't change, the second last argument in favour of the scenario where Riddler predicted is that if batman had killed Joker it would have changed his mental state and he might not have made the same decision and now the last one is that if batman had died against hush at the end, then why did Riddler want batman to deduce that it was him? He would literally be dead and Riddler wouldn't have been able to piss off Batman with the red hood thing which I'll explain later, so he would have predicted that Two face would ally with Gordon and therefore be able to kill Hush in 1v3.

- Now Riddler is going to rob a van full of money, unlike all the other villains Riddler is the only one doing something he usually does, it's a habitual crime for him and so the villain behind it didn't use him. Riddler is arrested by Batman as he wanted and Batman analyses the van, finding ash substances from the Lazarus pit.

- This discovery will force Batman to capture talia to meet Ra's (it's the only way) and comes to the pact of Riddler and lex, when we go to the pov of lex he learns that batman has kidnapped talia from a Lexcorp plane he is not even surprised, he says to do nothing as if he knew what was going on and the atmosphere of the scene really gives the impression that he knew it was going to happen . Now what did lex want in exchange for resources and information? Probably the fact that superman is involved in the plan, so lex could possibly have deduced that batman would use lois and the throw her in the void strategy to force superman to catch up with her (this is the only possible strategy to stop Superman in batman position), which possibly implies the death of lois and in any case superman is embarrassed, lex likes that.

- So now Riddler wanted batman to meet Ra's so that Batman could tell him about the Ash substances that he found so that Ra's could talk about the Lazarus pit that was used by Riddler but Ra's didn't know about it so that Ra's could ask batman to fix the problem so that Riddler wouldn't have any more problems with Ra's now that Ra's knows that batman is the first one concerned and that he's going to find out who it is for him he doesn't need to investigate anymore. All this was planned by the Riddler

- Now we get to the part where Huntress is mad at Catwoman, in fact she was already on the Scarecrow drug, she had been implicated at the very beginning by Tommy who had offered her money to do her equipment, she had checked it was "safe" but she knew that when they killed him that everything was going to be revealed, it was suspicious that she arrived in the alley just after Batman fell.

- She started to fight Catwoman because of the scarecrow and because she thought that batman was going to find her, it was Catwoman's fault

- batman will arrive having understood what happened and a fight will engage with Hush which was in fact red hood which was in fact clay face it was what batman thought in the end but in truth in "batman under the hood" it is revealed that red hood had really confronted batman then that clay face had taken its place. The fact that clay face was red hood adult was therefore because he could only copy red hood adult but also a way for batman to really think that there was no red hood because already he did not use "Bruce" and because he had copied red hood adult because he could not know his voice, all this to make batman suffer, a false hope.

- After that, Batman goes to see Oracle to ask him to locate Huntress, who had escaped because Catwoman hadn't been watching her. Oracle asks him how he fell in the first place, or why he thought of Tommy in the first place? Batman will say that it was instinctive but Oracle will show him what she found in the relay below the computer in the cellar that Batman had found and in fact, as soon as Batman used the computer an image of Tommy appeared within 0.1 seconds which is why Batman had thought of Tommy during his fall by contacting Oracle, Everything was planned.

- This discovery forces Batman to go and see Harold, who was in charge of the computers in the batcave. Harold reveals that someone had approached him saying that he could cure him, that he knew Batman and that to cure him he just needed to do this, which he does, at which point he is about to say who it was but Hush (Elliot) shoots him - remember he's in Batman's position 24 hours a day.

- Riddler put all the pieces in place for batman to deduce, already that it's in the bat cave is the biggest element given that batman often does work, he had predicted that batman was going to discover the relay circuit by questioning why he had thought of Tommy, he had just understood that huntress wasn't there by chance, so that led him to the operation... A fight was about to begin between hush and batman which batman would win, Riddler as already explained had probably predicted the appearance of Gordon and Harvey dent but even without them, Batman had a much better chance of winning this fight and Riddler would be rid of Tommy, being the only winner of the whole game.

- Now Batman is going to get back at Riddler, but how? At the end of the fight against Hush batman will talk to Dent who will tell him that he did an operation with Tommy in Philadelphia, that's when he will go back in the archives to the first name "Arthur Wynne" aka the creator of the Crossword, the activity that Riddler played when batman arrived (another reason of why Nygma must have predicted that Dent will betray him, if he didn't batman could't knew Nygma was behind everything and this is what Nygma wanted)

- Now for the last thing, why was Jason's grave empty, asks Batman? Riddler says that batman's greatest defeat was Jason's death and then tells him that this question is a "riddle" because Jason is dead and the person who was Jason in the fight against batman was clay face but as revealed in batman under the hood, in truth it was Jason and Riddler resurrected him using the lazarus pit, Riddler won. At the end of the shot he literally poses the biggest riddle to Batman "why is Jason's grave empty?" Riddler won, he proved who he was and posed an almost unsolvable riddle to batman. Since Nygma took months for the preparation, we can assume that he foresaw every part of it.