Patrick Jane’s genius 7x9 Plan.

Hello, again! I’ve recently started rewatching season 7 for the Patrick X Teresa line and so I got to this plan. I couldn’t understand how come that nobody did any analysis on this plan so I decided I’d be the one to do it.

Context for the plan:

There’s this guy, Bill Peterson, he has information that Abbott shot a Cartel commander in Mexico, at Rio Bravo. Abbott didn’t do what he wanted and even humiliated him. So Bill wanted to take revenge on him. If he proves it in court, then Abbott goes to prison and his wife’s career is done.

Patrick predicted it so he asked Wylie to keep track of Bill’s unusual behavior and Wylie told him Bill’s checked in the hotel just outside Rio Bravo.

Also Wylie tells him Bill called San Antonio Congressman, Representative Jules Blatt.

Abbott tells Patrick that Bill is searching for the bullet. He finds a bullet and then it is easy to identify the gun, connect it to Abbot, and he and his wife are done.

Lena comes into the FBI building and goes to Abbott’s office, they offer each other they will fall on their sword for the other. Patrick enters and says he’s guessing each of them is offering to fall on their sword for the other. But he doesn't think it'll work because Bill is ruthless and determined, and he won't stop until both of them are destroyed.

Patrick tells them he's gonna make up the plan.

Lisbon talks to Wylie about that and Cho joins.

Patrick goes to Wylie.
Wylie: "Bill Peterson is 55 years old. He's been a DEA Agent for 27 years. Married briefly in his 30s. His ex-wife lives in Tacoma. No kids, no living relatives."
Patrick: "What does he like doing?"
Wylie: "Work, mostly. Plays a little tennis, goes scuba-diving at the Carribean. Based on what he buys at the local liquor store, he's a wine snob."
Patrick: "Obviously, he's as corrupt as the day is long. Well, a man likes tennis, travel, and a good bordeaux isn't retiring from the government pension. He has some loot stashed someplace. We need to find it."

Wylie asks about a bullet, Patrick says he's gonna take care of that and he has to make some calls and catch up with an old friend. It means he created a plan in a few seconds the dialogue went or he made it before the dialogue, in a few minutes.

He goes to talk to his circus friend, Pete. And he asks him a favor and tells him the plan to take the evidence, specifically the bullet and get rid of it. This plan will be in a red color in the document.

Patrick goes to Bill's tennis court where he plays and takes his phone, using his sleight of hand. It will make him immediately go to his house so as not to miss a call from the congressman. He gives it to Wylie to cross-check all contacts for suspicious stuff because Bill is corrupted, he must've been stealing as Patrick said.

Wylie says Bill's house has a CRAZY elaborate security. Patrick deduces that then he hides money there.

Then, he tells them Bill's done some low-level raids. Patrick deduces he's stealing money from them because a man like that isn't gonna go do stuff if there's nothing for him in it. Lisbon says she thinks he's stealing the money. She says DEA Agents process the cash & stuff they found. The Senior Agent has to record the amount of money in. It means if he steals money, no one is gonna know. If the drug dealer complains - nobody believes him. Perfect crime. The Senior Agent is obviously Bill.

Bill goes into his house. Then he gets a call from "Missy Brammer," Congressman Blatt's legislative director. It is actually Pete's (Patrick's friend) wife as I remember, who is pretending to be Missy Brammer but I'll call her Missy Brammer cause I do not remember her real name. She is also Patrick's friend too. How? She entered the room while the real Missy Brammer was out and asked the people in there if she could use free phone because her office one died. They told her she can use Missy Brammer's.

These people will believe it because of human psychology. People are lazy and do not check information, they mostly believe the information that looks real unless it is really important for them.

She tells him that Representative Jules was very intrigued by his message a few days back. Patrick knew it was a few days cause Bill started searching for evidence only a few days back, therefore, he called and told a few days back. She tells him Jules is in DC because the hearings are in two days. Then, she asks to meet Bill at the Wagon Wheel on Alamo, 8:00 PM.

Then, Vega joins and Cho tells her she'll be his eyes. She will look at what Bill is doing, spy on him in other words.

Vega goes to spy on Bill at Wagon Wheel where Missy Brammer (the fake one as I said earlier) talks to Bill. She tells him to bring the evidence he has for the hearing tomorrow to Blatt's office. It will make it much more convincing to the Bill that the evidence is really going to get to the hearing.

The day passes, Bill leaves his house and goes to the office. Vega follows him in her car. Patrick, Cho, and Lisbon go into Bill's house while Wylie makes it so that cameras in Bill's house will be static and it will look like there's nothing happening on his phone if he decides to check the cameras.

Then, Wylie tells Patrick he can hold it for about 1.5 hours & sends Patrick a code for the alarm. I think when Patrick, Cho, and Lisbon were sitting in the car and saw Bill going away, Patrick texted Pete that he could start the operation.

So what happens is Patrick needs to make the bullet stuff more convincable. He told Pete that he would have to take some guys and wear themselves like pest control, having office clothes under the pest control clothes. They would enter the office of Blatt and tell everyone they're the pest control and they need 20 minutes. These 20 minutes are going to be enough.

Everyone sure will believe it because of human psychology. People are lazy and do not check information, they mostly believe the information that looks real unless it is really important for them. (Yes, I copy-pasted it.)

When everyone leaves, they will take off their pest control clothes and hide them somewhere. They will now look like regular office staff. Then, the fake Missy Brammer will enter. She wouldn't be able to enter before because the people in the office already saw her and would suspect something. Everyone is gonna act like they're doing work in their seats. Then, Bill is gonna enter and because Bill's never been there, he'll not suspect anything.

The fake Missy Brammer is gonna take the bullet, talk to Bill. Bill is gonna leave, everyone is gonna dress up like pest control again when Bill already left the place. And they will bring the bullet to Patrick. And Patrick is gonna get rid of it.

Cho asks what Patrick's plan is. Patrick tells him he’s gonna pick the lock up for the door. Lisbon says the alarm is gonna go off. Patrick says the alarm has a 60 to 90 second grace period before they alert anyone before he can figure out the alarm.

Patrick picks a lock, finds the number pad and types in the password that Wylie sends him. Cho asks how Patrick did it. Lisbon says Wylie sent it to Patrick, explaining that Wylie saw how Bill punched the code in on camera. They start to search.

Vega follows Bill to the office and sees how he knocks on the door of the real Missy Brammer’s office and the fake one opens the door, inviting him. Bill enters the room. The plan for the bullet in red works.

The scene switches to Patrick sitting on the couch, looking at the candlesticks. Lisbon and Cho ask him what he’s doing. He tells them that the Bill doesn’t strike him as a candlestick type. He looks under both of them and when he takes the 2nd one, the secret little wall for the safe opens.

Patrick says this is a problem. Lisbon asks why they cannot open it. Cho says they can’t open it because of biometrics. It requires Bill’s thumbprint to open it. Patrick says he’ll use the backup plan.

The backup plan is basically to make Wylie bring at least a million dollars, 2 million is better. So when he gets there, they will take pictures of the money and the cat in Bill’s house, which will make Bill believe they really did get the money. This will help with the next part of the plan.

Wylie calls Vega and tells her to slow Bill as much as she can. She does it via crashing into his car and saying stuff about insurance, etc.

Wylie brings the money, Patrick takes photos and they leave from the back of the house, leaving no trace behind right before Bill enters the house.

Then, Abbott goes inside the building. He stands in a way so that Bill is gonna see him and come up. The 2 closest rooms in there will be closed. So when Abbott is going to show the pictures of money with the cat, Bill is going to find an open and empty room where Vega is hiding. It will make Bill enter, talk to Abbott and tell him everything he needs.

Patrick knows Bill is smart enough to check if Abbott has any wire so he will not put wire on Abbott but rather he will put Vega in a room, but she will be somewhere where Bill cannot see her.

Then, Abbott tells Bill that if he's gonna do anything, then he is going to show this evidence to the DA, which will start the internal investigation. They will conclude that Bill was a thief for 20 years and he will go to jail.

Then, Bill tells him to take half the money and they will both walk away. Patrick predicted it, that's why he put Vega in there. Abbott asks how much half is. Bill says about $800,000.
Abbott: "So you're offering me $800,000 of the cash you've been skimming."
Bill: "You're not getting a dime more."

Vega reveals herself with the recorder, showing she recorded everything.

They get out of the room and Bill says it doesn't matter what Abbott does to him. Abbott asks why. Bill says Blatt has the bullet Abbott shot in that General's head. Bill says he can't do anything.

Patrick comes up to them, introducing the real Missy Brammer. Bill gets shocked. He says it's not right. He says he met Missy Brammer in the office 2 days earlier. I explained this part earlier.

Patrick says it's impossible and that Missy Brammer was here all week.

Bill: "No, no, no. She returned my call from Blatt's office. I met her! In Blatt's office."

Then, Vega arrests Bill.
